New 14-Point Farm Program Given Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today called for lower government price supports for major farm crops and dairy products, and an easing of production restrictions.

In a special message to Congress, Eisenhower laid out in 14 points what he termed a progress program and said it would let farmers benefit more from "their own unparalleled ability to produce."

The program held out the prospect, too, of eventual lower food costs for consumers.

Eisenhower told Congress that agriculture in recent years has been experiencing a veritable revolution in productivity.

"Farm production per man-hour has doubled since 1940," he said. "There has been more change in agriculture within the lifetime of men now living than in the previous 2,000 years."

Eisenhower said the rapid changes taking place in agriculture are "largely the result of a major breakthrough in agricultural science and technology," constitute a revolution that cannot be reversed, and are continuing.

"IN RECOGNITION of this basic fact," he said, we must find ways of utilizing more completely the abundance that our farm people are now able to produce; we must find ways of further expanding markets for this increased production, not only among our own citizens but among people all over the world who need the food and clothing we produce in such abundance."

In outlining his recommendations, Eisenhower said it was essential that they be accepted this year to improve the status of rural people in greatest need, to aid agricultural adjustment, provide more freedom, expand markets, and, thereby, to help raise farm family income.

His proposals:
1. Change the $1 1/2 billion annual soil bank program by abandoning next year the costlier short-term acreage reserve and strengthening the longer-term conservation reserve.

He proposed $450 million for payments to farmers for retiring cropland of any kind for long periods and putting it to grass, trees or other noncrop uses.

2. Legislation giving the secretary of agriculture discretion to increase acreage planting allotments for wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts up to 50 per cent.

Teamster Local Near Hoffa Upset

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An insurgent faction of St. Louis Teamsters came within five votes Wednesday night of electing Harold J. Gibbons, a vice president-elect of the international union and right-hand man of James R. Hoffa.

Rivals contended seven of his votes were phony and said they would seek to upset the outcome in the courts.

The contest came in an election of officers for Teamsters Joint Council 13, made up of 21 locals embracing about 41,000 members in the St. Louis area. Insurgents won two of four offices.

Finds His Gun—The Hard Way!

Roy A. Benson, 57, of 618 Rawlings St., found his misplaced .22 revolver the hard way Thursday morning.

Benson was reaching to an overhead closet shelf about 8:30 a. m., looking for something else, when he accidentally grasped the pistol.

A shell discharged and tore through the fleshy part of his left hand. Benson, who was treated by a physician, is right-handed.

Solon Urges Ike To Take Command

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas called on President Eisenhower today to take full responsibility for Defense Department reorganization, something Eisenhower indicated he is reluctant to do.

Johnson, who heads the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, said it is encouraging that Secretary of Defense McElroy "is drawing upon experienced people to come up with a specific plan for reorganization."

McElroy named Gen. Nathan Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and two of his predecessors, Gen. Omar N. Bradley and Adm. Arthur Radford, to advise him on defense realignments. A number of civilian advisers also will be named, McElroy said, but they, like the military men, will act as individual advisers and not a committee.

While Johnson applauded this action, he made it clear he wants the Eisenhower administration to take the responsibility for drafting a plan and then to spell out to Congress any legislative changes that are needed.

"THIS IS properly an executive function and detailed recommendations will be very helpful to Congress," Johnson said.

Eisenhower told his news conference he would be "the last to ask for a detailed organization in which I believe" because such an organization had to be effective in the long range after he was no longer president.

He said there must be a consensus reached with Congress and the armed services heads on any plan and his own personal convictions could not be final.

He said he wants "to get the very finest kind of organization we can" but added that there would be a "good deal of argument" and if the trend is not in the direction of his views "then I couldn't possibly have anything to do with it."

Johnson said he hopes the reorganization question can be settled during this session of Congress.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said that as part of any such reorganization Congress should abolish the jobs of most of the 33 assistant defense department secretaries.

"We have got to reverse the trend and turn it toward cooperation and concentration instead of the dispersion of authority that now confuses the department," Mansfield said.

Ohio University Cafeteria Burns

ATHENS (AP)—Fire destroyed a cafeteria building on the Ohio University campus early today. Firemen estimated the loss at between $50,000 and $100,000. No one was injured.

The single story frame building was the last remaining temporary building of several erected at the university during World War II.

Athens Fire Chief Charles W. Dalton said the fire started around a refrigerator unit but that the cause had not been determined. The blaze was discovered at 5:30 a. m., Dalton said.

House Panel Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals today upheld validity of the resolution creating the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

New Red Plane 'Flies Like Bird'

Soviets Claim Ships 'Flap' Their Wings

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio announced today that Soviet aircraft designers "have created" ornithopters—aircraft which fly like birds by flapping their wings.

The broadcast, quoting the Soviet news agency Tass, did not make clear whether the Russians actually have such machines flying or have only reached an advanced designing stage.

Moscow radio said the wing flappers "can be used conveniently for flights over short distances. They can take off from any place, hover in the air and land anywhere."

The ornithopter's lifting power was described as being "about three or four times that of an ordinary aircraft" using the same engine power.

If the Russians have made ornithopters fly, they have mastered mechanical difficulties that balked men for centuries in their efforts to get into the air.

Soviet designers have created ornithopters with two distinct wing shapes, Moscow radio said, adding:

"Pavel Smirnov designed a machine with wings resembling those of a bird, while the German Rybnikov designed wings resembling those of insects."

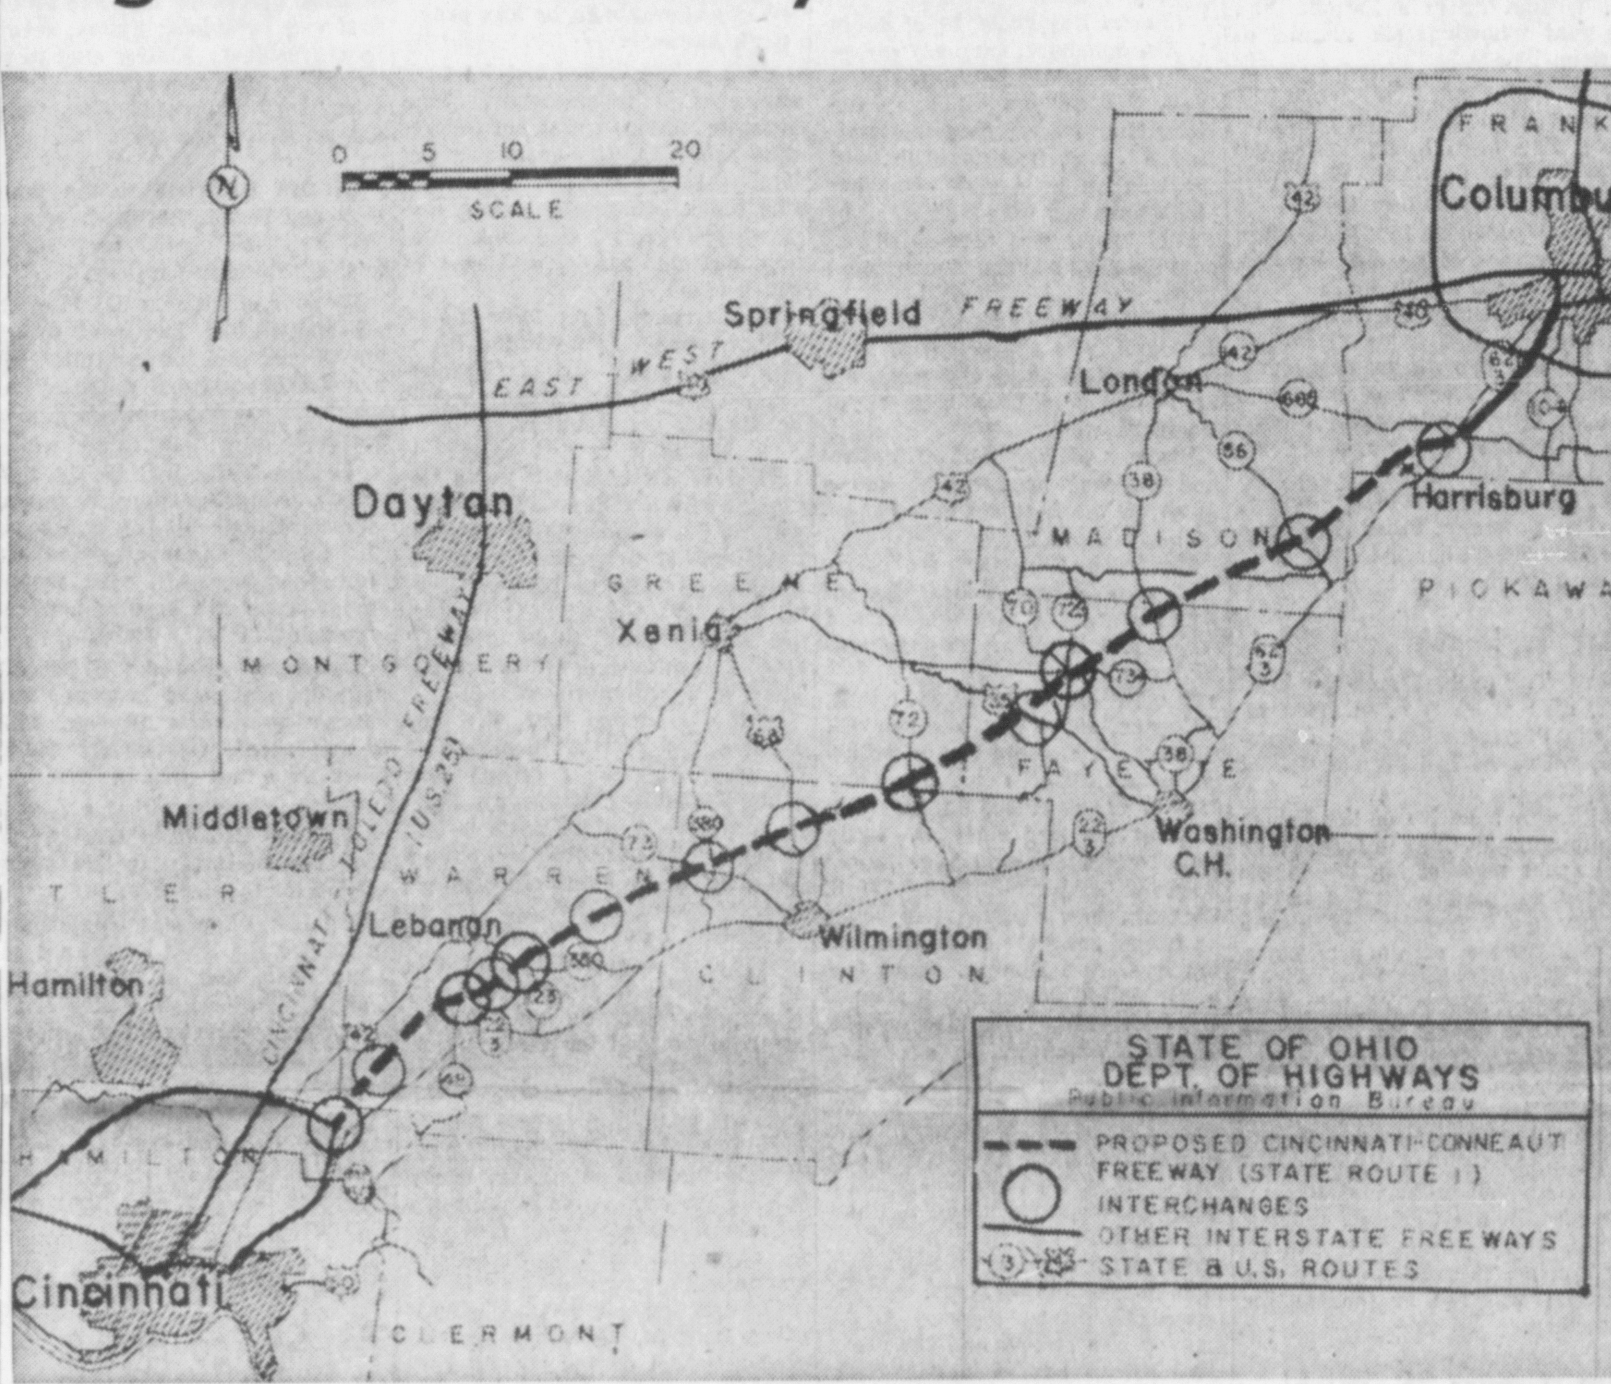

Police Answer Send-Money Plea

AKRON (AP)—A please-send-money appeal to friends in Akron from Virgil Akers, 21, led to his arrest Wednesday in Detroit, one week after he escaped from the City Hospital ward here.

Detectives dispatched the money to Akers, who was picked up at a Western Union office.

Akers originally was sentenced for assault to rob. He had been put in City Hospital's jail ward because he received a skull fracture jumping from a moving auto in a flight from police.

Engineers' Freeway Recommendation

Highway Chief Charles M. Noble

Thursday revealed the consulting engineers' recommendations for building the south leg of the Cincinnati-Conneaut Freeway—a proposal which would take the Fayette County section of the superhighway north of Washington C. H.

and near Jeffersonville.

The south leg extends from the Hamilton County line to Harrisburg about 10 miles southwest of Columbus. Construction already is underway north of Columbus.

Emphasizing that the south leg is in the "most preliminary planning stages," Noble outlined consultants' findings and recommendations:

Estimated cost—$63,177,000; Length—73.9 miles; Lanes—four and six, divided by at least a 60-foot median strip; Interchanges—12, one at each major crossroad.

Design—interstate standards, which means there won't be one stop sign or traffic light on the entire length of the new highway.

RECOMMENDED location of the highway is the same as that outlined by Noble last September on the basis of consultants' early studies. The recommended route is generally parallel to and west of the CCC Highway.

Starting at the Hamilton County line about one mile west of the CCC Highway, the new freeway heads northeast passing one mile west of Kings Mills. Continuing northeast to just north of South Lebanon, the highway swings more east and crosses the Little Miami River about five miles east of Lebanon.

After the river crossing the highway continues a northeast path passing about four miles west of Clarksville. It then crosses the present route 73-380 intersection, about four miles west of Wilmington.

IT CROSSES route 68 then route 72, very close to the Clinton-Greene county line, and extends into Fayette County after crossing the extreme southeast corner of Greene County.

The new highway then heads northeast in a direct line, passing nine miles northwest of Washington C. H. three miles northwest of Mt. Sterling (southeast corner of Madison County). It then crosses the northwest corner of Pickaway County, ending at the northeast side of Harrisburg.

Noble said the recommendations are now under review by the department, but that a "final decision on the exact location and various design features cannot be made until several additional steps are taken."

He listed these (in order): review by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads; preparation of the final engineering report by the consultants on the basis of state and federal studies; another detailed review by the state and federal roads bureau; and finally a public hearing.

THE SOUTH LEG of the North-South Freeway is on the department's advanced program, which means construction will not start before July 1, 1959.

Engineering studies were made by Louis Berger and Associates, Harrisburg, Penn., and Elmer S. Barrett Associates, Chillicothe, Ohio.

The Berger firm was responsible for the section from the Hamilton County line to route 72 in Clinton County, while Barrett Associates made the study from 72 northeast to Harrisburg.

Cost To Run Well within Bond Money

Sever-Williams WCH Firm, To Be Principal Builder

The Washington C. H. Board of Education awarded contracts for construction of two new elementary schools and two elementary additions Wednesday afternoon and received the assurance of the Sever-Williams Co., low bidder on the general contract, that there is a possibility that all of the 27 new classrooms will be ready for occupancy in September.

All four projects were sold at one time. There were six bids on the general contract and four on plumbing and heating.

Base bids and alternates accepted by the board total $503,300, which means that the total cost of the building program will be within the $645,000 bond issue voted by city district residents in November of 1956.

Actually, there will be a balance of nearly $9,000 for construction of sidewalks at the new buildings, blacktopping of parking lots and playground and other equipment after payment for architect's fees, furnishings, land costs and retirement of a note.

THE SUCCESSFUL bidders on the four buildings as a group were:

General contract and electric work—Sever-Williams, Washington C. H., $359,280. This figure includes a base bid of $332,900, plus a number of additional features such as terrazzo floors in corridors, tile wainscoting, clock and program systems for the new Eastside and Belle-Aire buildings and a regular brick instead of speed tile for outside construction.

Most of these extras had been set up as alternates in the bid specifications and some or all of them would have been dropped had not the offers been so favorable.

Plumbing for all four projects and hot-water heating for Eastside and Belle-Aire schools—Geiger Bros., Logan, $124,055. This includes the Geiger base bid of $117,949, plus copper water pipes for all new projects and new 4-inch service lines for Rose Avenue and Cherry Hill schools.

Warm air heating for additions to Ross Avenue and Cherry Hill schools—Columbus Heating and Ventilating Co., $19,974.

NEXT LOW BIDDER on the general-electrical contract was the F. S. Cupp Construction Co., Washington C. H., whose base bid plus the alternates approved by the board would total approximately $368,000.

Acquisition of sites for the new Eastside and Belle-Aire grade buildings calls for an additional

Ohio Native Faces Noose in Canada

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP)—Gerald Thomas Campbell, 23, a native of Ohio sentenced to hang Feb. 11 for the knife-slaying of his wife Mary Ellen, 21, will appear before a judge Jan. 28 to arrange for an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.

Campbell's defense counsel, A. Vannini, has said that five U. S. senators he would not identify have sent letters to the Canadian government asking that the death sentence be commuted.

Crow Defeated Again In High Court Bid

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday refused to reconsider an earlier decision affirming disbarment of J. Harvey Crow of Urbana and Cleveland from the practice of law. The Champaign County common pleas court disbarred Crow May 14, 1955, for misconduct and unprofessional conduct involving moral turpitude in the handling of divorce and other cases. Appeals were unsuccessful.

Astronomy Professor Says He's Conservative

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—A reservation has been made for the 1,000th trip to the moon by Prof. Charles H. Smiley, head of the Brown University astronomy department. "I want 999 successful returns before I take the trip," he said. "That just shows that I'm conservative."

Tax Books Open

Fayette County tax books for the 1957 real estate tax collection opened Wednesday, and County Treasurer Charles A. Fabb said statements were mailed to rural residents Tuesday and Wednesday.

City tax statements were placed in the mails Thursday. Collections on first-half 1957 charges will be accepted without penalty until Feb. 15, Fabb said. Payment of second-half 1957 taxes will be due in June.

If Your Dog Nips Postman, Service Ends

WASHINGTON (AP)—You may have to pick up your own mail if your dog bites the postman, or tears his uniform. It won't be delivered.

Postmaster General Summerfield announced this Wednesday, saying delivery will be stopped in such circumstances, and that: "The dog owner will be advised where his mail may be picked up until a satisfactory solution is found, when service will be reinstated."

New instructions sent to post-offices across the nation advise less drastic steps where postmen report trouble making deliveries. The dog owner will be asked to cooperate, perhaps by tying up his pet at the normal delivery time, or he may be notified that delivery service is about to be discontinued.

But if the mailman is actually bitten, the instructions provide for "automatic discontinuance" of deliveries.

The postoffice has wrestled with the problem for years. It says postmen suffer some 6,000 dog bites yearly.

Space Passports Asked

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Frances G. Knight, director of the U. S. Passport Office in Washington, said Wednesday night at a local travel forum that she has already received several passport applications for the first trip to outer space.

U. S. Lowers Anti-Inflation Curb in Stock Mart Deals

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today lowered another anti-inflation barrier—the margin requirement on stock purchases—after breaking bad news on both production and income.

The Federal Reserve Board cut from 70 to 50 per cent the margin, or down payment, required for purchase of shares on the nation's sluggish stock exchanges. The 70 per cent requirement had been in effect for nearly three years.

The reduction was hailed by Keith Funston, president of the New York Stock Exchange, as giving the market a desirable added liquidity that he said would help industry raise new funds for working capital and expansion.

Other reaction from financial circles was mixed, with some specialists sharing Funston's optimism, others viewing the action as having only temporary effects on the market, and still others saying they thought the impact would be negligible. But most of those who commented expressed surprise.

First effects were felt on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange in San Francisco. It was still open when the reserve board's action was announced, and prices spurted ahead in active trading.

Reserve board officials declined to make any forecasts that the move might help reverse the downward trend of business investment in new plant and equipment. But their action spoke for itself: If such a movement developed, high margin requirements would not be standing in the way of stock issues.

The board's decision was made public immediately after two announcements which revealed that business ended 1957 with a harder-than-expected bump. These reports were:

1. Personal income, said the Commerce Department, dropped to a $342,800,000,000 annual rate in December, down more than 2 1/2 billion dollars from November.

This was the largest of four successive monthly declines, cutting the income of individuals four billion dollars, in annual rate, below August's all-time high.

Most of the decline resulted from smaller than usually year-end

Rural Schools Await Tax Funds To Pay Notes

Miami Trace Board Cites Delay in Starting Collections

The Miami Trace Board of Education, at a regular meeting Wednesday night, discussed redemption of notes now held by banks for payment of December teacher salaries and agreed that because of "abnormal delay" in the opening of tax books the board could not redeem the notes immediately.

The board, in a resolution, pointed out that the late opening of the books made it impossible for the rural school district to obtain an advance draw of tax revenues. (The books finally opened for collections Wednesday, County Treasurer Charles Fabb announced.)

J. Herbert Perrill, vice president of the board, explained that because of year-end depletion of the bank balance, the three district depositories agreed to accept individual notes signed by teachers in anticipation of the collection of tax money to pay December salaries.

THE YEAR-END "squeeze" resulted from a $17,000 increase in bus costs under a new state law. Voters of the district last November approved a 2-mill levy which will produce $80,000 in additional revenues, but this money is not yet available. The new levy will remedy the situation faced in December.

THE BANKS charged no interest on salary loans, making the money available to the teachers. The board had hoped to redeem the notes Jan. 15 but was unable to do so "because of the delay in tax collections by the county treasurer."

The board also discussed the matter of a teacher salary schedule after receiving a communication from a Fayette County Teachers Assn. committee seeking information regarding the prospects of an increase.

Board members will review the entire salary schedule in light of district finances and report its conclusions either through representatives of the Teachers Assn. or at a mass meeting of teachers.

Board members discussed the district's insurance program with Wilbur Snapp, its agent of record, and renewed policies expiring this year which carry total premiums of $3,402. The board's insurance coverage is on a five-year basis, because the long-range program results in a saving in premiums.

The board withheld payment of monthly bills because of the tax collection delay.

2,089 X-rays Made; Today's Last Day

The total number of free chest X-rays made at the mobile unit since it came to Fayette County on Jan. 6 was raised to 2,089 Wednesday.

A total of 116 were made Wednesday morning while the unit was on Court St. here for the last time and 54 were made in the afternoon when it was moved to Jeffersonville.

Mrs. Mildred Fent, who was in charge of the program at Jeffersonville said she felt the total reached there was "very good in view of the weather and slippery roads."

The unit will remain at Jeffersonville until 7 p. m. tonight and then return to Columbus.

It was brought here by the Fayette County TB and Health Assn. in cooperation with the county and state health departments.

City Manager Here Attends Meeting

City Manager James F. Parkinson expects to be in attendance Thursday afternoon and Friday on the Ohio State University campus, Columbus, for the winter meeting of the Ohio City Managers' Assn. Problems of municipal administration in Ohio will be discussed. Orin F. Nolting of Chicago, executive director of the International City Managers' Assn. will speak.

First attempt at optical glass manufacture in the United States was made in 1889. But good quality and quantity were not perfected until 1915.

No Wife Deserter, Just a 'Refugee'

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A man appeared before Judge Edward J. Kallick in the Domestic Relations Court accused of wife desertion.

The defendant faced the court and said: "Judge, if you knew my wife like I know her, you wouldn't call me a deserter. I'm not a deserter. I'm a refugee."

It was not reported how deeply the judge was moved in disposing of the case.

Deaths, Funerals

Lowell Heaton

Lowell Heaton, 25, of Roanoke, Va., grandson-in-law of Mrs. George A. Worrell here, died Wednesday night of injuries received in a traffic accident in Roanoke at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Brief word just received by Mrs. Worrell said Heaton's car and a truck sideswiped on a Roanoke street and that Heaton was thrown out when his car turned over.

He is survived by his wife, Patricia Ireland Heaton; a daughter, Cynthia, 2; a son, Michael James, 1, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Heaton of Roanoke. Mrs. Heaton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Ireland, formerly of Washington C. H., have lived in Roanoke for many years. Mrs. Ireland is the former Miss Clarabelle Worrell.

Services will be held in the Oakley Funeral Home in Roanoke at 10 a. m. Friday. Burial will be at Kingsport, Tenn., his former home.

Mrs. Annie Perkinson

Mrs. Annie Pyle Perkinson, 79, mother of Mrs. Frank Alexander of Washington C. H., died at 9 p. m. Wednesday in a Suffolk, Va., hospital following six months of serious illness.

Mrs. Perkinson, whose home was at Church Road, Va., near Petersburg, had been living in Suffolk with her daughter, Mrs. Herbert Clay for the last three years.

She is survived by three other daughters and four sons. Her husband preceded her in death.

Mrs. Alexander has been with her mother and sister in Suffolk for the last two weeks. Alexander, organization director of the Farm Bureau here, will leave for Petersburg Thursday evening.

Services will be held in the Morris Funeral Home in Petersburg at 2 p. m. Saturday. Burial will be in the Methodist Church Cemetery at Church Road.

Bert T. Leach

Bert T. Leach, 77, of the Ford Rd., died at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday in University Hospital, Columbus, where he had been a patient five weeks.

Although a native of the Sabina community in Clinton County, he had spent most of his life in the Jasper community of Fayette County as a farmer. He was a former trustee of Jasper Township.

His wife, Jennie, died in 1927, and he had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Paul Pope, on the Ford Rd. for many years. He also leaves a grandson and a brother, Earl Leach of Washington C. H.

Services will be held at 1 p. m. Saturday in the Gerstner Funeral Home, where friends may call after 7 p. m. Thursday.

Burial will be in the Sabina Cemetery.

Mrs. Grover N. Wical

SABINA — Mrs. Grover N. Wical, 71, Reesville, died at 10 a. m. Thursday in Clinton Memorial Hospital, Wilmington, where she had been a patient since Tuesday.

She was a member of the Reesville Methodist Church and Order of Eastern Star in Sabina, in which she had been active for many years. She was secretary of the Eastern Star at the time of her death and had served the order as deputy grand matron and worthy matron.

She is survived by her husband, Grover N. Wical; a son, Exley E. of Wilmington and a brother, George E. Wilson of Reesville. Arrangements for the services, in charge of the Littleton Funeral Home, are incomplete.

FRED BETTS — Services for Fred Betts, who died at 4 p. m. Sunday in Berger Hospital, Circleville, were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the Williamsport Methodist Church.

The Rev. Clarence Swearingen of Columbus officiated, with the assistance of the Rev. William McOmber of the Williamsport church. Pallbearers were Ted Corcoran, Carl Schein, George Harmon III, Edwin Frazier, Jack Ullman and Don McConnell.

Honorary pallbearers were John West, Harley Mace, Fred Cochran, H. W. Campbell, Eugene Alkire, W. D. Heiskel, Guy Cline, George Bochard and John Smith.

Burial, under the direction of the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home of New Holland, was in Spring Lawn cemetery.

ROSS BENNETT — Services for Ross Bennett, 240 Draper St., who died suddenly while attending services in the Church of Christ in Christian Union in Jeffersonville last Sunday night, were held at 2

Slippery Roads Are Blamed for Five Accidents

One Man Injured, One Arrested and 8 Vehicles Damaged

Slick, snowy highways that caused five auto accidents here Wednesday and Thursday led to one injury and one arrest, law officers reported.

The only injury victim, William Henderson, 22, of Columbus, was treated in Memorial Hospital for a cut on his head.

Escaping injury were the drivers and passengers of seven other vehicles involved in wrecks. Damage ranged from slight body dents to total wrecks as cars skidded through the 4-inch snowfall and frozen slush. It was the first storm here since Dec. 4.

Henderson was injured when a car driven by Willie J. Green, 25, of Columbus, went out of control on the CCC Highway two miles north about 12:30 p. m. Wednesday.

The auto smashed into a utility pole, denting its front bumper, grille and hood.

Charles Ray Poole, 20, of Route 1, Bloomingburg, narrowly escaped injury about 6:45 a. m. Thursday. His car got stuck on the B&O Railroad crossing on Harrison Rd. near Madison Mills, and he was hit by a slow-moving Baltimore and Ohio freight.

Poole's car was sent skidding onto the road and rolled over into a ditch.

Daniel L. Graham, 20, of Route 4, Logan, was charged with reckless operation about 4:30 p. m. after he tried to pass a truck on Route 22, west.

His car skidded out of control and smashed head-first into a fence on the Shannon See property.

The truck, a tractor-trailer rig driven by Robert Jones, 30, of Winchester, Ky., also skidded and rolled into a ditch. Damage was moderate.

A car driven by Patrick R. O'Connor, 20, of 622 Yeoman St., skidded out of control on Washington Ave., just off Court St., about 5:40 p. m. It landed in the front yard at the Dr. Paul S. Craig home, 509 Washington Ave.

Harold E. Wright, 44, of 221 S. East St., New Holland, told police he turned too wide from Washington Ave. onto Elm St. about 1:10 p. m. He hit the front of a stopped car operated by Joan Medary, 25, of 1117 Yeoman St.

Three inches of snow—the first since Dec. 4—tied up traffic and shortened tempers in the Washington C. H. area Wednesday night. The prospects for a quick thaw are slight.

Five auto accidents were attributed to the foul weather, and innumerable drivers skidded off the snow-slick streets into the ditch.

No snow-caused injuries were reported at Fayette Memorial Hospital, but dozens of people took tumbles on the slush-covered streets.

Overall forecast indicated little more snow in the next few weeks. But there's a chance of flurries or drizzle Thursday night, and freezing temperatures are in store.

Man Returned Here On Check Charge

Leslie Ison, 32, of Fairfield, was brought back from the Miami County Jail in Troy Wednesday to face a charge here of writing a bad check.

Ison, who has admitted passing a bad check for $22.50 at the Pensyl Camera Shop, 231 E. Court St., Aug. 6, will appear in Municipal Court Friday.

Sheriff Orland Hays who brought him back, said a warrant for Ison has been on file here since shortly after his arrest as a parole violator in Troy last August.

p. m. Wednesday in the Parrett Funeral Home here.

The Rev. Raymond Orner, pastor of the Waterloo Church of Christ in Christian Union and a former pastor of the Jeffersonville church, and the Rev. Ed. Streitenberger, the present pastor, officiated.

Mrs. Kenneth Bonecutter, Mrs. Robert Harper and Mrs. George Carrigan sang "He Will Understand" and "Good Night and Good Morning."

Pallbearers for the burial in the Washington C. H. Cemetery were Homer Dale Smith, William Smith, David Cassidy, James Goble, John Matthews and Carl Matthews.

Benjamin Franklin invented the modern municipal sanitation system in 1731.

Freeway Plans

several alternatives to the recommended location, including one which follows the present CCC Highway and variations of both the present CCC and the recommended route.

The Barrett report stated that Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce officials favored an alternate to the recommended route, which located the new freeway closer to the city. Barrett said overall considerations proved the alternate to be less practical, however.

Main points considered by the engineers in recommending the highway location were: most direct route between Cincinnati and Columbus, major and minor intersecting roads, interchange areas, topographic features, minimum property damage and overall cost of construction.

Recommended is a 1450-foot bridge over the Little Miami River about five miles east of Lebanon. Central span of the structure would be 230 feet above the river.

THE FREEWAY will join the Cincinnati's Northeast Expressway at the proposed Circumferential Highway near the extreme southwest corner of Warren County. This will allow traffic to skirt downtown Cincinnati via the belt route or continue downtown to the Third St. Distributor.

In the Columbus area, the new highway will join the Southwest Freeway, which is a continuation of the Sandusky Expressway. Traffic may then continue north in one of two ways: over the Columbus Outerbelt or over the city's innerbelt.

Construction of the Southwest Expressway is expected to start this spring. Contracts for the Sandusky Expressway already have been awarded to road builders.

The consultants recommended the freeway be six lanes wide from the Hamilton County line to near Ohio 123 in Warren County, to accommodate anticipated heavy traffic. The rest of the route would be four lanes wide with provision for expansion when traffic density warrants.

Construction can not begin until after June 30, 1959, because the project is not on the current construction program which ends then.

Twelve additional interchanges, beginning at the southern end, end, were recommended:

At Foster Road near Kings Mills; at Ohio 48, just south of South Lebanon; at a proposed relocation of U. S. 42, southeast of Lebanon; at Ohio 123, west of Lebanon; at Wilmington Road, about four miles northwest of Clarksville; at the Ohio 73-380 intersection; at U. S. 68 north of Wilmington; at Ohio 72 two miles south of Bowersville; at U. S. 35 near the intersection of Ohio 729; at Ohio 70 at the intersection of Ohio 734; at Ohio 38 near the Madison-Fayette county line; at Ohio 56 just northwest of Mount Sterling.

Loans Made Last Year For Construction of 44 New Homes

The First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. today is starting another year under the guidance of the same board of directors and officers, following the annual meeting of the members (borrowers and depositors) Wednesday afternoon.

Three of the directors, Hoy O. Simons, W. A. Lovell and E. S. Woodmansee, were re-elected for two year terms. O. D. Farquhar, who was appointed to the board after the death of Glenn Woodmansee, was elected for a year to fill out the unexpired term.

Other members of the board, whose terms did not expire, are Arthur H. Finley, Howard D. Fogler, Robert R. Meriweather, Walter F. Rettig and Ormond Dewey.

Following the meeting of members, the board held its organization meeting and re-elected Simons as president; Meriweather, first vice president; Finley, second vice president; Rettig, executive secretary and vice president and Miss Mary Frances Snider, assistant secretary and treasurer.

IN HIS REPORT to the members and board, Rettig described 1957 as "one of the best years" in the institution's history.

He pointed out that assets of the association had increased to $5,010,276 and said the institution now has 833 home loans outstanding and 2,602 savings accounts totaling $4,638,655.

During last year, Rettig told the meetings, loans were made for construction of 44 new homes, 105 for home purchases and 106 for other purposes, such as remodeling, home repairs and refinancing of home loans.

The report showed $128,336 was paid out last year in 3 per cent interest on savings deposits. This, it was noted, was nearly $50,000 more than that paid in 1956.

Rettig pointed out that a reserve of $338,990 had been built up by the close of last year "as a protection for the deposits."

The institution was established in 1923 as the First Building and Loan Assn., but in 1939, when it was "federalized"—under federal government regulation and deposit insurance—it became the First Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

Rettig became the executive secretary in 1940. Prior to that he was principal of Washington C. H. High School.

City Water Main To Agric Plant Near Completion

A 1,700-foot water line, hitching the American Agricultural Chemical Co. to city service should be ready for use by Feb. 1, Emerson Warner, manager of the Ohio Water Service Co. here said Friday.

The new section, made entirely of six-inch pipe, runs from the six-inch water main under Elm St. out Robinson Rd. to the Agric property.

"The chances are other institutions on Robinson Rd. will hitch on later," Warner said.

The fertilizer plant has had no city water service prior to this time. Cost of construction is being shared by the two companies involved.

Profit-Taking Clips Stock Mart Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—Profit-taking clipped gains of a mighty stock market upsurge today. Trading was heavy.

The market swept ahead on a broad front early today as lower margin requirements flashed the green light to traders and investors.

Initial gains running to as much as 2 points and more for key stocks were trimmed to a 1-point range.

First year volume was a huge 1,260,000 shares, equal to the first four hours of trading Wednesday. The ticker tape fell behind floor transactions by as much as 8 minutes.

A succession of big blocks tumbled across the tape—Bethlehem up 1½ at 39½ on 25,000 shares; Getty Oil up 1 at 27 on 20,000 shares; U. S. Steel up 1½ at 53½ on 10,000 shares; and Royal Dutch up ¾ at 39½ on 10,000 shares.

Du Pont's opening gain was 4½ but it halved this in later trades. Bethlehem, U. S. Steel and Royal Dutch reduced their gains to fractions.

Longtown sheet's opening rise of 2½ was sliced to a bit over a point.

Other stocks backtracked similarly.

The big early rise was prompted by action of the Federal Reserve Board Wednesday in reducing margin requirements to 50 per cent. The action was taken after the close of the New York Stock Exchange.

Steels, motors, base metals, chemicals, rails, oils and other major sections joined in today's broad advance.

U. S. bonds swung upward.

No Damage to Home From Fire in Chimney

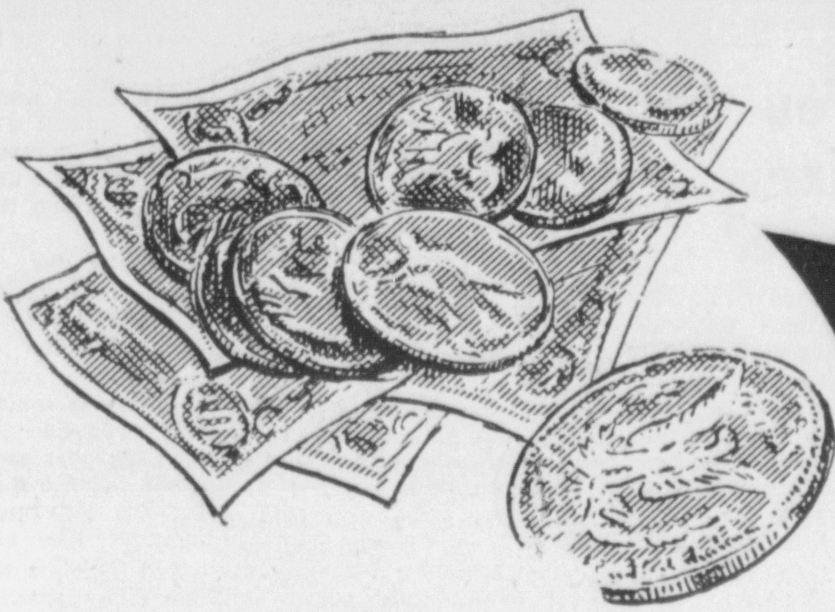

A chimney blaze sent firemen to 1005 Millwood Ave. at 3:19 p. m. Wednesday. No damage was caused.

Accidents -- Sometimes with Good Results

Most people think of accidents from the viewpoint of misfortune but such is not always the case.

We've all heard of so-called "accident-prone" individuals who seem to keep on having one mishap after another for no particularly discernible reason. Often they are regarded as liabilities in matters pertaining to usual working jobs.

However, there have been some "happy accident-prone" people whose accidents have become quite important over the years. They mainly are in the class of researchers, scientists or doctors who have accidentally discovered some really big thing while looking for something else.

A recent article in a medical journal points out some of these. It named as a classic example the time when Dr. Fleming accidentally left a dish uncovered — and discovered penicillin as a result. And there are many more.

Long ago, van Leeuwenhoek focused a magnifying glass on a drop of water instead of on a fly's leg as he intended — and criteria was thus discovered and the whole science of medicine revolutionized.

Edward Jenner heard a former milkmaid boast that she was immune to smallpox because she had had cowpox — and cowpox became the agent for mass immunity against smallpox.

A Paris physician saw children tapping messages to each other along opposite ends of a plank — and from this devised the principle of the stethoscope.

A chemist, who had been working with a strange chemical, forgot to wash his hands before lunch. He wondered about the sugary taste of his beef sandwich — and the end result was saccharine.

There is reported to be a word for the ability to make some valuable or pleasant discovery without deliberately looking for it — "serendipity." But luck doesn't explain the whole story by any means. One doctor is quoted as saying this: "Discoveries made by accident are never pure luck. They come about only because the men who make them are alert enough to fathom their usefulness."

Flea-Bitten Mutts Vanishing

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—The mongrel dog, that flea-bitten mutt beloved of children, may be on the way out in this country.

He is becoming a victim of prosperity, according to Milton M. Weiss, president of the Animal Insurance Company of America.

"In 1953 there were 28 million dogs in the United States, and 15 million were pedigreed," said Weiss. "Today our dog population is 30 million, and 18 million are pedigreed."

"In a few short years there has been a decline of about one million in the number of non-pedigreed dogs."

"The reason is simple. People have been buying more expensive homes and cars — and they also have been upgrading their pets."

There were chorales of laughter last fall when Weiss founded the nation's first firm devoted exclusively to life insurance for pedigreed dogs. There also were howls of protest from mongrel owners, who felt their pets were being discriminated against.

Weiss, who had spent 26 years in the insurance business and entered the new field after a 10-year actuarial study of dogs, felt neither the laughter nor the howls influence him.

"We can't insure mongrels, because they have only a sentimental value," he said. "But a pedigreed dog has a property value, just like real estate or furniture."

"We feel the average pedigreed dog is worth at least $300. Actually it costs about that much each year to raise one."

This estimate would give the nation's 18 million pedigreed dogs a total value of $5.4 billion.

Weiss's firm will insure pedigreed dogs ranging from six months up to seven years old for $8 per year per $100 of coverage or up to nine years, if they are insured before the age of seven. The firm pays off for death by any cause except poisoning. Group insurance is available at lower rates to kennel owners for five or more dogs.

Dogs can be insured from $125 to $13,000. Of the 400 policies written so far, the largest is $5,000 covering Asta, the wire-haired fox terrier who stars in "The Thin Man" series on TV.

As with Dogs, So with Men

By George Sokolsky

In Joe's battle with the cops over his arrest for being off his leash, we have come upon an amazing discovery.

The fellow who issued the wrong summons for Joe was no cop. He could arrest murderer or a mugger or such.

He wore a policeman's uniform; he boasted a policeman's badge; his head was covered by a policeman's cap, but, so help me, he belonged to the Department of Sanitation.

Why the street cleaning cops do not wear green or white or purple uniforms, I have not been told. They were blue like a regular policeman. I say it is camouflage; it is a trick.

Here in this big city, New York, where 8 million or more people live in peace and democracy, as "Butch" La Guardia used to say, there are all sorts of people who wear police uniforms. First of all are the police of the police department who are, as things go in a big city, fairly popular with most folks, unless one double-parks on the exact day and the precise hour when they take it into their heads to give out tickets.

Then there are the sanitation department police who walk about chasing dogs, annoy superintendents of large buildings, going after chewing gum addicts who drop wrappers on the sidewalks, etc. They are the enemies of the litter-bugs.

It would be smarter if the regular police got the money for additional men, for while a litter-bug is bad, a mugger is worse; and while it makes a city look sloppy if dogs are not curbed, it also makes a city look sloppy if cars are so parked that nothing can be done about swamping the streets.

So let us take first things first: namely, spend more money on cops to put down crime and juvenile delinquency.

Then there are the transit police who might wear a grey uniform, instead of the true blue. The transit police look after subways and such places.

There are not enough of them and in the rush and hustle of New York's transportation, which is normally a bughouse operation they are flattened out by the mob.

The transit police recently got a bad name by putting a microphone in the offices of a labor union in anticipation of a strike. Nobody seems to have liked that idea at all.

"Bugging" as it is called, is a criminal process, usually operated by private detectives to get the goods on an erring husband or wife.

Those who err constantly try to avoid using their own telephones, lest they be bugged, which is easy to do. They make their rendezvous over pay-station telephones, changing from one to another. Please, do not ask me how I know.

Then there are the Port of

New York Authority police who act in the airports, bus terminals and such places. They also wear the true blue uniform but they are really watchmen in circumscribed areas. They should wear pink.

The citizens become confused. There are too many public agencies and too many men in uniform and too many police who are not police. I do not know how it is in other big cities but here in New York the citizen asks why a great big cop worries a little dog only to discover that the dog-stalker is not a policeman at all; that he is just a sanitation department guy.

So from now on, every time I see one of those monstrous garbage wagons violate the law about blocking the streets or dripping paint or the garbage cans in the street, or committing any other kind of a nuisance, I shall call a cop.

What can a citizen do? Write to the mayor? The citizen gets nowhere. The mayor is probably scared that his wagon-drivers and garbage wretches will go on strike. Go, fight city hall!

Meanwhile, Joe must stand trial for being off his leash. Does Joe care? Is Joe grateful that he is being represented by adequate counsel who will see to it that his constitutional rights are protected? Not Joe! He is a politician.

He did not even bark at the sanitation department dog-stalker, but when he saw a real cop in true blue uniform, he gave him what for.

As with dogs, so it is with men, or is it vice versa?

$14 Million in Road Jobs Awaiting Bids

COLUMBUS (AP)—Road projects having a total value of $14 million will be up for bids next Tuesday. Projects include building 4.7 miles of the North-South Freeway in Morrow County and two interchanges and two bridges on U. S. 25 southeast of Lima.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

FREDERICK REMINGTON, renowned painter of scenes of the early West, was dragged, against his will, to an exhibition of pictures by a new Parisian impressionist. "Admit that you're impressed," challenged the host. "Impressed?" snorted Remington. "I've got two maiden aunts in New Rochelle who can knit better pictures than those!"

In a Paris cafe, at 3 a.m., the last guest in sight sat sleeping at his table. The charwoman said to the manager, "I've seen you shake that old one and wake him up five times. Why don't you make him go home?"

"Nothing doing!" snapped her boss. "Every time I wake him up he asks for his bill and pays it."

The owner of an Oklahoma barbecue near the Texas line told his wife, "Well, I finally got tired of being bullied by one of those tough Texas guys today — so I let him have it. No siree, I ain't going to let any 9-year-old highball me!"

Keep Aspirin Bottle From Child's Reach

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

ASPIRIN probably is the most common medication used today. It is found in almost every household.

Justifiably, aspirin and salicylates in general rank high on the list of safe medications. This probably accounts for the fact that aspirin is used for self-medication more than any other single drug.

Mistaken Belief

Unfortunately, it also accounts for the completely mistaken belief that aspirin is harmless. If taken in large enough quantities, aspirin can be, and often has been, fatal!

Physicians generally agree that a lethal dose of aspirin for adults usually is more than 150 grains. For children, of course, it is much less. And since the full-dose, adult aspirin tablet contains five grains, it might not take too many to make a child ill, possibly critically ill. Actually, however, most cases of aspirin poisoning, at least as far as the Chicago Poison Control Program is concerned, have been caused by the candy-coated, small-dose variety prepared especially for youngsters.

Flavored Aspirin

Of the 84 cases in the first 500 aspirin poisoning cases reported to the Control Program, 73 were caused by swallowing flavored aspirin.

Youngsters simply think they are candy and chew and chew. If aspirin or any type of medicine is left within grasp of your child, you are inviting trouble, serious trouble.

Once you see your youngster with an open bottle of aspirin in his hand, you've got to act fast. Determine if you possibly can just how many he has taken. If it is only one or two, you probably have nothing to worry about.

Call Your Doctor

But if you can't be sure, call your doctor right away. He probably will give you an antidote and advise that you make the youngster vomit immediately.

I'll have more to say later about antidotes and how to make a child vomit.

Perhaps you won't spot the opened aspirin bottle. Maybe the salicylate (oil of wintergreen) sometimes is the villain, too. It will be swallowed by the youngster some time before you sense anything is wrong.

In such a case, warning signals are listlessness, dizziness, mental confusion and vomiting. Generally, these are symptoms of acute salicylate poisoning.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

C. F.: I have a severe case of cirrhosis of the liver, and my abdomen has to be tapped three times a week to remove excessive fluid. Is there any way this can be eliminated?

Answer: A new operation in which a button is inserted in the abdomen permits the fluid that forms in the abdominal cavity to flow into the tissues. This may be of some help to you.

Insurance Firm's Election Delayed

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A U. S. District Court, at the request of Nationwide Corp. of Columbus, Ohio, has postponed the annual meeting of Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. of Minneapolis.

Nationwide wants the court to restrain a Northwestern proxy committee from voting proxies it already has obtained on an undetermined number of policy holder votes. The annual meeting was scheduled Jan. 27 and the court delayed it until Oct. 27.

The suit alleges the proxies were obtained under "constructive fraud." Nationwide has been attempting to get control of Northwestern management.

The water in Hot Springs, Ark., National Park has radioactive waters, and these waters contain a gaseous radium quality at 135 degrees Fahrenheit.

HOW LONG DO YOU WORK TO EARN THESE ITEMS?—This picture-chart shows how long the average-earning factory production employee works to earn enough to buy various consumer items. Figures are based on average earnings—from the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics—of August, 1957. The "up" and "down" compares with work time necessary in 1953, not with change in prices.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower enters next week his sixth year of fighting the cold war. How does it look? More intense than when he started.

Nothing shows it better than comparing what he said when he first took office in 1953 with what he's saying now.

His dream in 1953 was to cut government spending and balance the budget. He managed to make the balance twice, in 1956 and 1957.

He may not be able to do it again for the remainder of his second term. He has just submitted to Congress the biggest peacetime budget in history.

He managed to get an end to the shooting war he inherited—the one in Korea—but the Russians have been stepping up the pace of the cold war steadily.

They've been doing it with their economic aid to other countries and their sensational strides in weapons development.

Eisenhower's record budget this year is the result—an effort to keep pace with Russia. And there's no end in sight.

In his first State of the Union message in 1953, Eisenhower said: "Our problem is to achieve adequate military strength within the limits of endurable strain upon our economy. To amass military power without regard to economic capacity would be to defend ourselves against one kind of disaster by inviting another."

And then he went on in that message to set his goals: an end to deficit spending; balancing the budget by reducing government expenses until revenue paid for them; and working toward a tax cut.

He managed to get through a 7½-billion-dollar tax cut in 1954, when Korean military spending dropped. But there's no tax cut in sight this year, although Congress years for it in this election year.

And, instead of coming down, government spending has been going up. In his 1958 message to Congress Jan. 9 Eisenhower, perhaps wistfully, still expressed hope for balancing the budget by keeping expenses below revenue.

But he said: "While we now believe that expected revenue and expenditures will roughly balance, our real purpose will be to achieve adequate security, but always with the utmost regard for efficiency and careful management."

That didn't sound quite as positively hopeful as the 1953 message, for already in Congress there is doubt that spending can be kept within the limits of revenue.

And by the time Wednesday came around Eisenhower was talking of the possibility of deficit spending again.

He said, in answer to a question at his news conference, that he'd rather consider deficit spending than an increase in taxes that would balance the budget by giving the government added revenue.

And there's a reason: at a time like this, when the economy has been slipping, taking more tax money from people would leave them less spending money and perhaps hurt the economy more than deficit spending by the government.

This was the kind of dilemma Eisenhower thought in 1953 he could banish. But after all his trying, thanks to the Russians, it's staring him straight in the face.

Hairdressers Plan Attendance at Fashion Show

Hair styles for the spring and summer seasons and how to fashion them will attract almost 2,000 hairdressers to Columbus on Feb. 16-17. Many hairdressers from local shops will attend. The meeting will be held at the Neil House.

The event is the 30th annual hair fashion show sponsored by the Hairdressers Guild of Ohio, an organization composed of licensed hairdressers.

To demonstrate and teach the latest styles, the Guild will bring top stylists from two of the world's fashion capitals, New York and California.

From California's exclusive Long Beach comes Kay Gornley, winner of the 1956 International Congress of Beauty Grand Award and the first award in the California State Hair Fashion show as well as many other fashion awards.

From Switzerland, Paris and New York will come Andre Merz, a young hair stylist whose training began in his native country, continued from one to another of the top fashion centers in Europe and on to the United States and New York where he creates fashions in his own shop and also for leading beauty magazines in the country.

Hairdressers from Washington C. H. who are expected to attend the convention include Mrs. William Stoughton, Mrs. Ernest in e Chichester, Mrs. Edna Ankrom, Mrs. Helen Plymire, Mrs. Jerry Junk, Mrs. Bea Campbell, Mrs. Rachel Hurr, Mrs. Minnie Sutterfield, Mrs. Doris West, Mrs. Louise Wilson and Mrs. Helene Beatty.

TRUE TO THE theme of the Elfreda Visioni collection, Nancy Tracey creates an evening gown out of rustling taffeta, draping it in criss-cross fashion around the bodice. The rounded-off skirt with its straight front is in sharp contrast to the full, full back.

Loyal Daughters Class Meeting Held Tuesday

Mrs. Harvey Graves entertained 18 members of the Loyal Daughters Class of the First Christian Church Tuesday night.

Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Mary Moss, who read the Scripture and a poem entitled "Sympathy for Sinners."

Mrs. Hubert Folli, outgoing president, turned the meeting over to Mrs. Russell Knapp, the new president. Reports were given on those who are ill and the shut-ins.

The meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction.

Tempting refreshments were served by Mrs. Graves, assisted by Mrs. Moss, Mrs. Alice Farrell and Mrs. Russell Mark.

Newcomers Bridge Club Meets In Binzel Home

Mrs. Philip Binzel entertained the Newcomers Bridge Club Tuesday night with Mrs. Ralph Cook and Mrs. Richard Eckle serving as co-hostesses.

Prizes in bridge were awarded to Mrs. James Parkinson, Mrs. Clarence Maddox and Mrs. Jack Montgomery.

Those attending included Mrs. Ned Abbott, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Robert Harris, Mrs. Raymond L o c kman, Mrs. Madd o x, Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. Raymond Noel and Mrs. Parkinson. Mrs. Mark Schaeper was a guest.

Light refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostesses.

Sugar Grove MYF Holds Meeting

Sixteen members of the Sugar Grove Methodist Youth Fellowship met at the church Monday night. Larry Wright, president, opened the meeting, and Mr. Paul Brunner led in prayer, after which the group sang hymns.

Reports were given by Dianne Salyers and Pat Kelly. Discussion was held on having a basketball team and a swimming party.

The members decided that they would invite Mrs. Eldon Bethards to speak at the next meeting on "Temperance."

Refreshments were furnished by Mr. Brunner.

The advisors are Mr. and Mrs. Brunner and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Berry.

The next meeting will be held at the church at 7:30 p. m., Jan. 27.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a widower, 45, with two children—Susy, 13, and Danny, 11. My wife passed away 18 months ago. At present I have a parttime housekeeper; and my niece, 22, helps out evenings. We maintain a friendly exchange with my wife's parents and often have meals there on weekends.

Neither of the children has been a problem at school or elsewhere; but recently Susy has developed two rather worrisome habits.

When she kisses uncles, older boy cousins or even some of my old friends (married associates in business), she actually smooches and cuddles, which embarrasses all of us. Also she goes about the house of mornings in a very unladylike state of undress. She has come to breakfast in scanty lingerie.

When dressing in her room, the door is liable to be open or half open; with the window shades not adequately drawn. Or she romps to the bathroom scantily clad, without a kimono. Lately her brother seems annoyed by all this. I wouldn't mind if it were just in the family; but it is equally likely to happen when guests are here.

My wife and I didn't raise our children in a prudish atmosphere; but we always practiced modesty and never cavorted about in a state of undress. I am baffled by this sudden turn in my daughter's conduct at home. Having checked with her teachers, I learn that she is modestly behaved at school.

I've consulted our family doctor, who says I've nothing to fear—about either her smoochy kissing or her state of semi-undress at home. But what can I do to improve things? I've sent her away from the breakfast table until she finished dressing; and have canceled some of her privileges at times—going to the movies, roller skating, etc.—but it always happens again.

How can I impress her with the fact that a lady has to act like a lady? I've considered sending her to live, for a while, with an aunt whom she likes very much; but haven't mentioned this to Susy yet.

DEAR K.S.: Susy, behaving in the suggestive way described, needs to be firmly, even rudely squelched by a no-nonsense dad, who knows what the score is.

As for what's come over Susy, it is conceivable that she identifies herself at this time (as her figure buds out) with the siren type "heroines" currently on display in the movies and paperback novels. Also possibly she is having fantasies of taking her mother's place in her father's life—a crazy dream but no crazier than pre-adolescents usually have (of one kind or another).

Sorority Plans February Dance

Gradale Sorority discussed plans for the annual February dance to be held in the Country Club for members and invited guests, when they met in the home of Mrs. Sam Coil Jr. Monday night.

Mrs. Paul Pope, primus, led the group in the invocation. Devotions were given by Mrs. Joe Bryan.

Mrs. Richard Arnett gave the tribute report and Mrs. John Bath presented the quaestor's report.

Mrs. Philip Douglass introduced Dr. and Mrs. R. J. Nauss, who showed colored slides of their trip around the world. Such interesting places as Japan, Ceylon and the Panama and Suez Canals were highlights of the program. A question and answer session followed.

Tempting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. John Sagar Jr., Mrs. Hugh Rea and Mrs. John Rhoads, to the 44 members.

Auxiliary Visits Veterans Hospital

Mrs. Lawson Rhoads, Mrs. Harold Gorman and Mrs. Hugh Gidding, representing the American Legion Auxiliary, visited Veterans' Hospital, Chillicothe, Tuesday afternoon.

They served 51 patients in Ward 210-B home-made cakes and candies, cigarettes and other refreshments. The cakes and candies were donated by the members of the Auxiliary. They also took magazines for the library.

State Aide is Named

COLUMBUS (AP)—A retired Army colonel, William M. Clarkson, today was appointed administrative assistant to Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene.

Thus perhaps her audacious parading in semi-undress is geared to a stream-of-consciousness sort of play acting—to an inner drama that is out of step with reality. This could be her mixed-up way of trying to compensate herself for the loss of her mother; as well as a way of trying to deal with anxious jealousy, supposing you've been dating women friends in the recent past.

Her smoochy kissing has the same roots, probably—insecurity feelings, hunger for love, a drive for attention and self-glorifying reveries. If you've let the reins of authority go slack, or reacted uncertainly to her wackiness, now's the time to get hold of yourself and speak as if you know what's what.

Call a halt to the siren kissing. Tell her straight that it is bad form—disgusting, embarrassing and ridiculous too. A handshake or a peck on the cheek is the correct routine.

Crack down about modesty. If her door is ajar or open when it should be closed, clap it shut emphatically, or below an order to her to do it. If she appears at breakfast or romps towards the bathroom without a wrap, growl your disapproval instantly. (When she was changing hose in the living room, she should have been sent upstairs, on the double-quick). You get the pitch?

If the favorite aunt would take her in charge, by all means send her there for a while—and let auntie know what sparks this move.

SHOP TALK

By SHARON

We are still on a modest home decorating spree, and we couldn't have picked a better time for it. Would you like to make a guess at just what every citizen of Washington C. H. is going to buy for the next six months? Having made that guess (with a great deal of careful study) would you then be willing to support that guess with a great deal of your capital?

Well, that is what your merchant must do and so remain in business he must guess right a great percentage of the time. The times he guesses wrong and you don't buy the item in the given period, he must take his losses. Those losses are your gains but it is a matter of timing.

You can't wait for these mark-downs, because he can just as easily guess wrong the other way and run out long before you make your purchase. However, it is only intelligent to take advantage when you can. As we have said, now is that time.

AN OUTSTANDING example of what we have just described is the quilted cotton offered in one of the stores. The buyer purchased this material to sell at $1.95 per yard. He sold a great deal of it at that price also, but now he is down to five patterns and he is closing this particular order out at only $1.00 per yard. Three of these patterns are picturesque provincial prints; one is a paisley and one is a reversible red and white polka dot pattern.

Incidentally, all of these patterns are beautifully backed so no additional lining is necessary.

Wondering how this yard goods department item fits into my home decorating ideas? What about covering cornices to contrast with white muslin curtains?

Makes beautiful covering for Hollywood bed headboards. That old boudoir chair can be new and fresh again with this fabric.

The point though is to buy it now when the price is so right. Anticipate your needs.

IS THAT YOUNG Wyatt Earp at your house finally reaching the age that he has his own ideas on how his room should look? Oh we know (having one of our own) that you still run an obstacle course to make his bed, that when you open his closet door, you are usually struck by falling guns, ball bats, etc. But the point is that he may have noticed that those things at the windows are drapes or curtains, or realized after nine years that his room is green and he hates green. It isn't much but it is to be encouraged if his taste is ever to develop along desirable lines.

Unless, there is no ceiling on your budget, we do not recommend investing heavily in furnishings for this young man's room. There are several reasons for this but for one, his tastes are formulating, not formulated, and they will be changing frequently in the next few years. For another, despite his new found interest, he is not going to give his furnishings much more consideration than he has in the past.

Boy's rooms take particularly well to a theme and as a beginning, we would suggest studying the Rondo prints for only 39 cents and 49 cents per yard. This material would be very effective either as draperies or cafe curtains.

The prints offered are too extensive to describe all here. However, bearing boys in mind, we particularly liked a red, white and blue print of various nautical signal flags. This suggests so much in the way of an overall decor.

There is a yellow and red fire engine print if his tastes run along those lines... or a wonderful covered wagon print of yellow and brown.

Around any of these three a terrific boy's room could be built.

AT ANOTHER store but along the same thought wave, we found attractive wooden plaques with various objects of metal standing out in relief against them. The wood is an imitation tawny walnut and the metal is antiqued. The objects are a six-shooter or locomotive engine, fire engine, an ocean-going schooner. These sell for but 98 cents a piece. So, for a modest price, carry out the scheme you began.

OUR LAST ITEM for today is certainly not the least. It is a new and very different window treatment. Vertical venetian blinds in either a tweed or wheat design. No problem here with matching your other furnishings as these are offered in over 100 different color combinations. The top of these blinds is of cornice depth so absolutely nothing other than these stunning blinds are necessary at the window.

While these blinds would be appropriate at any window in your home, we were particularly impressed with their use at the problem windows over stairways, often found in older type homes, or perhaps a bathroom window which just will not take well to any standard type window dressing.

The price of these blinds would be comparable to more conventional type window treatments offering at the same time almost lifetime use.

SHOULD YOU DESIRE any additional information regarding any of the items above, please call 3-3291 and ask for Sharon.

WOOD GLUES

DO... know that hide and fish glues, which once had to be heated long and carefully, can now be used directly from their containers and have tremendous holding strength.

DO... use powdered resin glue when you want a water-resistant, non-staining adhesive.

DO... use powdered case in glue when you want a strong, heavy-duty adhesive, but work carefully with it to prevent getting any of it on the surface of the materials being joined.

DO... use only a waterproof glue for making joints or repairs on outdoor wooden furniture.

DON'T... forget that glue can not do much towards locking a poorly-made joint into place.

DON'T... neglect to read the instructions regarding the temperature of the room in which the gluing is being done, since some glues should not be applied while the room temperature is under 70 degrees Fahrenheit.

DON'T... fail to remember, also, that you must follow the instructions of the particular type glue being used to determine whether it should be allowed to become tacky before the joint is put together.

R-H Reader Spares Nothing In Analysis of 'Sack Look'

EDITOR'S NOTE: The new "chemise silhouette", decreed by fashion designers for spring apparently will not have the unanimous endorsement of Fayette County women. A "distaff side" reader of The Record-Herald wrote us her views of the whole affair, and her analysis of the "sack" is so graphic that it should see the light of print. It is now official!

All the outstanding designers here and abroad, with but one or two dissenting votes, have decreed that the chemise silhouette will prevail for Spring of '58.

This shocked us very much as the only garment ever referred to as a chemise in our hearing was Grandmother's. She more often called it her "shimmy".

We concluded in our childhood that it was so named because of the gyrations necessary to maneuver into this garment.

Being very cognizant of the fact that Grandmother would not have been caught dead on the street in her chemise, we were immediately aware that some mistake had been made in recent fashion reports... or that our memory had failed us completely.

(It was really our ghastly recollection of our one view of Grandmother in her chemise, however, which sent us scurrying for Webster's unabridged...)

WELL, the dictionary offered no consolation, for there in black and white it declared that a chemise was a short slip or long undershirt type garment worn as underclothing against the skin.

This writer wishes to state here and now that although she has worn sloppy joes, dirty paint jackets, been twisted into first an "H" shape and then an "A" by Mr. Dior... covered her legs to the ankles one season and then shown off her knobby knees the next...

she is not about to waltz down Court St. in an old (or new) undershirt.

We dug once more into the fashion notes. Here and there we did find this new line referred to as a "sack". This is much more acceptable to use as we have been called "an old bag" for years.

It is even gratifying to us for it seems that after years of being pulled in where we naturally go out and pushed out where we go in... we are finally in Fashion!

WE HAVE further concluded this new look is very democratic. It starts all women on an even footing. When we all get our bags on, it is going to be very difficult to tell a Marilyn Monroe from a Sophie Tucker.

Now, if we can only convince the millinery designers to sponsor a catcher's mask look, equality will exist in feminine pulchritude, at least.

We think this new design goes deeper than this, though. The feeling persists that this whole conception was the subversive action of the maternity wardrobe designers.

For many years, dating at least from the Empress Josephine's empire waistline, they have attempted to make the ancient woman appear as her less blessed sister.

Now, they are working from the opposite end of the problem.

REGARDLESS of all we have said here, in the past we have been compromised into many an unbecoming style by fashion trends and will undoubtedly join "the sad sack brigade".

We are going to start slowly, though, by wearing our present wardrobe beltless. Then as the trend progresses, we plan on confiscating all of our spouses T-shirts and letting down the hems.

1958 Chemise Not What It Used To Be

costume with print silk lining and overblouse; Mollie Parnia's tweed bloused chemise; Cecil Chapman's draped chiffon sheath and Trigere's cutaway lounge jacket costume.

By DOROTHEA ROE
Assoc. Press Women's Editor
When is a sack not a sack? The 1958 answer is — when American fashion designers get through revising it.

The embattled chemise, storm center of heated arguments on both sides of the Atlantic, emerges as the top fashion for spring, but far different from the original shapeless garments shown in Paris last fall.

New York designers, previewing spring styles for the nation's fashion press, show a many variation on the chemise theme as a modern jazz musician improvising on Beethoven.

There is the chemise belted in front only, hanging loose and straight in back. There is the chemise belted in back, straight in front. There is the unbelted variety, which, however, is carefully shaped so that it is apparent there are feminine curves beneath.

THERE IS the dress with a simulated jacket front and straight, loose back. There is the bloused chemise, loose around the midriff, bloused at the hipbone.

One thing designers make clear — the chemise dress has to fit, if it is to be flattering. It must fit perfectly at shoulders, bust and hips, with the relaxed look only in the middle. This ushers in a new lineup of foundation garments which flatten the hips and leave the waistline uncinched.

Suits for spring are smart, wearable and varied. Most popular in the 1958 Easter parade probably will be the cropped jacket suit, with brief, unfitted jacket just reaching the hipbone, lined in print to match the over-blouse of the same length. The nice thing about this kind of three-piece suit is that skirt and blouse may be worn without the jacket, making a smartly coordinated costume.

There is the bloused jacket suit, also high in favor, and the Chanel suit, with loose, straight jacket and pleated skirt.

Some jackets have back fullness starting at the neckline, cuffed at the hipline.

There is much hemline interest in the new straight-line dresses. As one designer explains, interest is focused at neck and hem, now that the midriff is in eclipse. Some chemise dresses have pleated flounces at the hemline, others draw interest below with back slits, low-placed bows or hemline decoration.

THINGS GROW a little more fitted after dark, with even a few full skirts available. But the newest-looking evening gown is the draped chiffon sheath, subtly shaped to accent the figure but never tight. This may be either long or short, looks seductive in black, dramatic in red, girlish and flattering in pastels.

Fabrics for spring are handsome and elegant, with featherweight tweeds and woollens lending distinction to suits, silk suiting important in the lineup, and all kind of blends with new talents.

Women who vowed that they wouldn't be caught dead in the new sack styles are changing their minds, now that they have seen a few worn by smart women, and probably will be well accustomed to the new silhouette by Easter shopping time.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Reading in the "40 years ago" items in this column about a CH&D passenger train being stalled in a snowdrift near Milledgeville overnight in sub-zero temperature, Roby Price, 232 Oakland Ave., retired B&O Railroad employee, called me and gave me a first hand account of the stranded train.

A trackman for the CH&D at the time, he was aboard the passenger train when the two engines ran into huge snow drifts and was marooned for the night 40 years ago this week.

Steam from the engines to heat the two coaches, containing 48 passengers, many of whom were enroute to this city, was soon exhausted. The fires were removed and the engines "died" for lack of water.

All passengers were removed from the passenger coaches to the baggage coach, which was heated with a coal stove, Roby recalls, and he and some of the passengers carried coal from the engine tenders and kept the fire going throughout the night. The 48 stranded passengers were as comfortable as they could be, sitting on boxes or sprawled on baggage in the car.

Early next morning Roby struggled through the 18-below - zero temperature and the snow to Milledgeville, and called Sammie Fichtorn, who lived near the train, stranded a mile east of Milledgeville. Within a short time Fichtorn had a horse sled, with wagon bed filled with straw, ready to move the passengers to Milledgeville where they were fed, given shelter by the residents of the village and cared for until two big engines and a crew from Dayton came through, worked their way into Washington C. H. and restored traffic over that part of the line.

"That was one experience I shall never forget," Roby declared in relating it.

NO HANGAR NECESSARY

About the time the ill - starred "Akron" and "Macon" dirigibles were built in the huge hangar at Akron, and plans were made to build others of the same type before disaster overtook both huge ships and destroyed them with severe loss of life, plans were on foot to establish hangars, or anchorages, at various points.

Howard Allen, whose brother, Hugh, was affiliated with Good Year Rubber Co., builder of the dirigibles, headed a movement to have one of the hangars or anchor masts located adjacent to Washington C. H.

The plan might have succeeded if the two big lighter - than - air craft had not been destroyed. I recall assisting Howard in preparing data that might appeal to the officials in charge of anchorages, and one of the things the prospectus carried was the fact that this city is located in somewhat of a basin between higher ground in Clinton County, and higher ground in Pickaway County and northward.

I was in Akron the day the "Akron" was scheduled to make its maiden flight, but last - minute checking caused postponement until the following day, so the nearest we saw the first flight was to hear and see the motors in tryouts as the big bag rested in the immense hangar.

ROBINS ARE HERE

Although I have had no reports of the "first robin" being seen here, I am confident there are quite a few robins, and some blue birds within the confines of the county and surrounding counties.

Recently when several groups made a bird count around Buckeye Lake, they came up with nearly 250 robins and 54 bluebirds.

Usually a few of both kinds of birds remain here throughout the winter, and it is about time the "first robin" is reported here.

A few mornings ago while walking along East St. when the mercury was six above zero, I was almost startled by a series of loud, melodious notes coming from a small bird in a nearby tree.

I recognized it instantly as a Carolina wren, whose call is always lusty and cheery, and who frequently attracts other birds which fly to the tree in which the Carolina wren is perched, and look and listen in apparent admiration while the little fellow gives voice to his hearty notes.

Since writing the above, Frank Green, Bloomington, told me he saw a robin near his home last week.

OLD IRON FENCE

Passing the old iron fence at the home of Miss Mazie Rowe, 404 East St., I noted some lettering on the bases of the main iron posts, which are about six inches square and four feet in height.

As near as I could decipher them, the letters and figures are "Page 105, 36," and I take it that the type of wrought iron fence was patented in 1836 although that particular fence is not nearly so old. In the earlier days in Washington C. H. most of the residence properties in the uptown area were protected by iron fences, stone walls or other type of barrier.

It was necessary in those days because so much livestock was driven through the city, to market, and other livestock kept within the city was eternally breaking barriers and roaming at will over property generally, destroying shrubbery, gardens, flowers and ruining lawns.

I am reminded of passing through a small town in southern Tennessee a few years ago, I was forced to drive around several hogs which were wallowing in a mudhole in the main street.

Coal Producers Fight Rail Rate Hike

COLUMBUS (P)—Coal producers and users will fight an attempt of Ohio railroads to get a freight rate increase.

All railroads hauling freight in Ohio have asked an increase that would raise annual gross revenues by 3 per cent. The Utilities Commission will hear their application next Tuesday.

The commission permitted the Ohio Coal Assn., the Toledo Edison Co. and the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. to participate in the case.

The coal association is composed of coal producers who, in 1956, produced 20 million tons of soft coal. The association explained freight is a substantial part of the delivered cost of coal.

Cleveland Named FHA General Counsel

WASHINGTON (P)—The Federal Housing Administration has announced the appointment of George P. Bickford of Cleveland as FHA general counsel, effective Feb. 1.

A senior partner in the Cleveland law firm of Arter, Hadden, Wyckoff & Van Duzer, Bickford, 56, will replace Pierce J. Gerety in the $13,975-a-year job.

Veteran Marion Cop Inspector Suspended

MARION (P)—Marion Mayor Wendell Strong has suspended a police inspector with 23 years on the force for "malfeasance and misfeasance."

But Mayor Strong refuses to explain at this time what prompted him to file charges against Police Inspector Clyde Hardin.

The mayor said he would wait until a hearing before the city safety director before elaborating.

U. S. 'Little Ambassadors' Fighting Inroads by Reds

Editor's Note: Following is the third in a series of articles telling how American technicians are handing out knowhow abroad while waging battle in the cold war against communism.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The Russians served clear notice of their intentions.

"The capitalist countries no longer have a monopoly on supplying machinery and equipment, granting credits and imparting know how," Soviet Delegate A.A. Arzumanyan told the Afro-Asian Conference in Cairo last month.

The Russians thus repeated their war declaration in the political - economic field in underdeveloped countries. And, despite Sputniks and missiles, the political - economic arena is the place where the decisive battles of the cold war are likely to be fought.

An important, and often unnoticed, part in this battle is played by America's small army of technical experts under the International Cooperation Administration (ICA) program to help other nations help themselves.

Compared with the rest of the world, the Middle East, probably the most sensitive cold war front, received a relatively small share of the U. S. technical aid program, which Arabs still call Point Four.

Once, under President Truman's Point Four Program, Americans were welcomed in Egypt. Their work inspired some of the ambitious projects of the Egyptian revolution. But American - Egyptian relations soured. Today the program in Egypt is insignificant.

Altogether there are 862 Americans working on technical aid programs in Middle East countries, distributed as follows: Iran, 315; Iraq, 101; Jordan, 81; Lebanon, 63; Libya, 134; Ethiopia, 157; and Egypt, only 1. Syria was offered point four aid and rejected it on political grounds. Saudi Arabia first accepted, then rejected such help. There is no program in the Sudan.

Before the Suez Canal nationalization in 1956, Egypt had 75 American technicians.

In North Africa, Tunisia has only 8 American technicians. U.S. prestige is high there. Tunisia wants more Americans.

Morocco has a staff of 21 Americans. There is no significant anti-American feeling.

In the Arab East, the once common complaint of "too many Americans" seems to be lessening. Perhaps this is because Soviet offers of technicians made Arabs suspicious. They do not know Russians. They know Americans and generally like them — although the U. S. government has been losing friends swiftly through the area.

Arabs have complained that too many aid dollars went into fat American salaries. The facts seem to dispute this. In any event, ICA officials contend there are just not enough Arab technicians qualified to do the work. This is the basic reason for the ICA program.

Church Shuns Tieup With Segregation

CINCINNATI (P)—The Methodist Board of Education has gone on record as opposing the use of churches "in programs designed to maintain segregated school systems." It said:

"Rather than accept desegregation, some states have passed laws permitting abolition of the public schools."

"Efforts may be made to use church facilities in programs designed to maintain segregated school systems. Segregated parochial schools are advocated by some as an alternative to non-segregated public schools."

"We believe such proposals contain elements which endanger our Democratic way of life and threaten the integrity of our churches."

Milner Slated To Head Higher Education Study

COLUMBUS (P)—Rep. Arthur H. Milner (R-Highland) is chairman of an Ohio Legislature committee named Wednesday to study higher education.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), 25 chairman of the Legislature Service Commission, appointed the 14-member committee.

The committee also will consider education of gifted children and those who are mentally retarded.

It's Jubilee Time in Hollywood: First Movies Made 50 Years Ago

By WALTER LOWE
Central Press Assn.

Hollywood was an accident, pure and simple.

It happened exactly 50 years ago, and this being the movie capital's Golden Jubilee, a search of dusty files and old clippings brings to mind how easily the center of the world's movie production might have ended up in another sunny place, such as Florida, or even Cuba.

Hollywood actually was "discovered" a number of times. It wasn't much of a place back in 1907 when the flickers were still in their infancy, coming in one-reel lengths and attracting an eager and curious public to the nickelodeons.

In those days, while producers were already busy cranking out movies in New York, Hollywood was little more than an aromatic expanse of orange groves.

In Chicago, the Selig company was making an ambitious nine-minute story film, "The Count of Monte Christo."

The interiors had been shot, but bad weather fouled up vital locations. Undaunted by the necessity for a complete change of cast (who could tell the difference in those days?), the Selig troupe took off for Los Angeles where, rumor had it, sunshine never ceased.

ELECTRIC LIGHTING at that time already was in use in some eastern studios, but film wasn't very sensitive and sunlight still gave the best exposure.

The Selig unit arrived and found its sunshine, but promptly ran into trouble since there was a shortage of actors.

Appearing before the cameras at that stage of the movie game wasn't considered quite professional. No stage actor of repute would stoop that low.

The Selig people finally discovered an unemployed hypnotist and persuaded him to play the count. The picture was released the end of January, 1908, as the first

D. W. Griffith (center), great producer and director, directs a scene for The Escape (1914). The actor who seems about to "end it all" is Henry Walthall. Behind the camera is Billy Bitzer, famed movie lensman of the early days. (Photograph by courtesy of the Museum of Modern Art)

"feature" to be shot on the West Coast.

The movie business at that point was in a turmoil. The Motion Picture Patents Co., had been formed and the independents in New York had a rough time of it.

Furthermore, New York weather during the autumn and winter often prevented outdoor shooting and valuable hours were lost waiting for the sun. The independents began to look for greener pastures, exploring Florida and going over to Cuba.

IF LOS ANGELES appealed to them it was in part because it was a hop, skip and a jump from there to the Mexican border where, for a while at least, one could be safe from the sheriff.

Cecil B. DeMille was already a name in those days. He set out in 1913 to do "The Squaw Man" with Dustin Farnum on location at Flagstaff, Ariz.

They got off the train, perceived that the place didn't offer much by way of scenery, and rode to the end of the line—Los Angeles.

There, DeMille pitched camp and sent back to the New York home-office his by-now famous wire: "Have rented barn for $200 a month. Am proceeding with shooting."

DEMILLE, incidentally, was having some financial trouble and he offered Farnum a handsome participation, which the actor indignantly turned down in favor of a comparatively small cash sum. His skepticism cost him dearly, for The Squaw Man was one of the industry's biggest grossers and DeMille re-made it several times after that.

Reports of the happy experiences of the Selig company on its California jaunt filtered back east. In 1910, the New York Motion Picture company shifted out west, taking a stock company of actors along.

D. W. Griffith came out to Los Angeles, with Mary Pickford, Henry Walthall and Owen Moore. His studio was an open lot at 12th and Georgia and for dressing rooms he pitched tents. The property man headquartered in an empty grocery store.

AGAIN, it was the shortage of actors that led Griffith to the discovery of a name to become famous in movie annals—Mae Marsh. The girl came to visit her sister, Marguerite, on Griffith's set and the director took a fancy to her because she looked like Billie Burke.

Marguerite had signed up with Griffith when he advertised for badly-needed extras.

The citizens of Los Angeles, now justly proud of Hollywood, didn't think much of the influx of acting folk back in the early 1900s.

One local paper editorialized darkly on "the dangers of fast living."

Hollywood grew fast as it became obvious that the movies were here to stay. In 1913-1914, Griffith already was to use hundreds in his spectacular and controversial "The Clansman," later to become better known as Birth of a Nation.

"The picture gave Los Angeles its first big movie premiere at $2 a head. A new entertainment era had begun.

Selection of New Women's Prison Chief To Be Delayed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It likely will be months before a new superintendent is selected for the Reformatory for Women near Marysville.

The superintendent, Mrs. Marguerite Reilly, is retiring Feb. 1 and her daughter, Mrs. Jean Goche, will become acting superintendent.

M. C. Koblenz, chief of the State Division of Correction, said Mrs. Goche is a candidate for the superintendency, which pays $12,500 a year, and that several persons have inquired informally about the position.

"We don't look for an appointment in the near future since we want to survey the field thoroughly and determine the availability of possible candidates," Koblenz said.

"There is no need for immediate action since Mrs. Goche has been acting superintendent for several months during the time Mrs. Reilly was on sick leave."

Mrs. Goche is executive officer at an annual salary of $5,760 and has been working at the reformatory since 1940. Whether her salary will be increased after Mrs. Reilly's retirement becomes effective has not been determined.

Koblenz said the superintendent of the Women's Reformatory does not have to be a woman and pointed out the Girls Industrial School near Delaware is headed by Malvin B. McLane, who succeeded Mrs. Evelyn Ethell more than one year ago.

The first 10 superintendents at GIS were men, from 1869 to 1911. The next nine were women.

Koblenz said he will not disclose names of candidates for the Marysville position.

Koblenz will make the appointment with the approval of Dr. and Correction. The appointment Robert A. Haines, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction. The appointment has to have the consent of the Advisory Council to the Division of Correction.

Common Pleas Judge Russell H. Kear of Wyandot County heads the council. Other members are Charles L. Sherwood of Columbus, former Ohio welfare director; Atty. John M. Caren of Columbus, Dr. Walter C. Reckless of Ohio State University and Marshall Hunt, Cincinnati insurance executive.

Theology Schools Given New Budget

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Methodist Board of Education has approved a budget of $1 million to operate its theological schools.

Bishop D. H. Tippett of San Francisco, chairman of the board's Education Department, said Tuesday the denomination's 10 theological schools will get a total of $312,500 for operations and also will receive $75,500 for emergency needs and special help.

Two new theological schools being set up at Delaware, Ohio, and Kansas City, Mo., will get $37,500 for administrative costs.

Uncle Sammy Suffers New Cash Trouble

Treasury To Need Short Term Loan To Pay Federal Expenses

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — Uncle Sam is having cash trouble again. So he is asking Congress to help tide him over.

And the financial community is speculating on the moves the federal reserve system may take to make it easier for Uncle Sam to borrow — both on a long term and a short term basis — and at the same time help him try to ease the recession.

The treasury will have its troubles between now and mid-March keeping enough cash on hand to meet the bills. And these are expected to rise as government spending increases.

The cash balance has fallen below three billion dollars. Little but borrowed money will be coming in until mid-March when the corporate income tax payments are due. The following month individual income tax payments will be due. The size of the collections from taxes on business profits and personal incomes will be affected by the extent of the recession.

Borrowing is the obvious way out of the present cash difficulty. But the secretary of the Treasury already is getting cramps from trying to stay under the federal debt ceiling of 275 billion dollars. He's within about 700 million dollars of that limit now. And each week lately he's had to tap the money market for an extra 100 million dollars.

Congress is being asked to raise the limit to 280 billion dollars until next June, when corporate and individual income tax payments should ease the strain on the treasury.

Wall Street is speculating today on two possibilities:

1. If Congress acts quickly on the debt ceiling, there's a chance the treasury might put out another long term security next month when it has to refinance nearly 11 billion dollars of maturing federal debt.

2. The Federal Reserve might make borrowing easier — both for the government and perhaps for business too — by lowering the discount rate again.

This rate—the charge to member banks for borrowing from the Federal Reserve banks — was cut to 3 per cent from 3½ per cent in November as acknowledgment that recession, rather than inflation, was the problem of the day.

As a counterbalance to this trend to easier money, however, is the inflationary aspects of increased government spending — which the stock market duly noted in bidding up stock prices after the President's new budget was published.

60 Russian Educators To Visit in Ohio

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland is expected to be one of the cities visited by 60 Russian educators on a tour of school systems late this year. It is a program arranged by the Comparative Education Society.

Dr. Gerald Read, society secretary and Kent State University education expert, said Wednesday that the Russians would visit four American cities in a reciprocal agreement with the society, which will send 60 educators from the United States to Russia in August.

The four Russian cities to be visited are Moscow, Leningrad, Kiev and Tashkent, Dr. Read said. He said the U. S. cities that the Russians would visit have not been finally selected, but that the list certainly would include Cleveland.

Dr. Read returned recently from Russia, where he and Dr. William W. Brickman of New York University, president of the society, laid plans for the visit of the American educators and worked out the reciprocal agreement.

The educators will visit all types of schools in both countries and will exchange ideas in seminars and conferences. Dr. Read said the Russians would be guests of the society during their five-week stay in this country.

Witness Tells How Divorcee Killed Woman

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A prosecution witness, testifying at the first degree murder trial of Mrs. Ann Murray, said she saw the 40-year-old divorcee shoot Mrs. Alberta Cobb, also 40.

She said it happened in the kitchen of Mrs. Cobb's home during a birthday party for the man they are both alleged to have loved.

Miss Ann Vernice Baker Wednesday told the jury of 11 men and one woman that last July 24 she and Mrs. Cobb, also a divorcee, were sitting in the kitchen when Mrs. Murray entered by the back door.

Miss Baker said Mrs. Murray pulled out a pistol and fired twice. One bullet struck the refrigerator and the other hit Mrs. Cobb in the chest, she said.

Miss Baker testified that Mrs. Murray then stepped over Mrs. Cobb's body and left by the rear door. As Mrs. Murray left, Miss Baker testified, she told Miss Baker: "You had better tell Tommy (Thomas Wright) to come and see about his girl friend (Mrs. Cobb)." Wright was the next witness.

He testified that he never attended the party given in his honor at Mrs. Cobb's home. He said he was with Mrs. Murray earlier in the day at her home and that they were accosted by Mrs. Cobb, who started an argument.

Wright said he went into the yard. He testified that he then saw Mrs. Cobb run from the house and Mrs. Murray come into the front yard carrying a pistol. He testified he heard Mrs. Murray say: "Come on back, I've got my gun now."

He admitted under questioning that he had conducted a bootlegging operation with the two women.

2 Daytonians Held For Beating Pair

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton police are holding for investigation two men they saw admitted the robbery-beating of two Wayneville gasoline station attendants in neighboring Warren County.

Detective Sgt. Charles Teeter identified the two men held as William L. Johnson Jr., 21, and Russell Thomas Brenner, 20, both of Dayton.

Warren County Sheriff Richard Satterthwaite said Howard Carnes, 44, and Donald King, 35, were hospitalized Wednesday after two masked men entered their station at the north edge of Wayneville, beat them over the head with a tire tool or auto spring and fled with an undetermined amount of money.

Granddaughter of President Harrison Recalls Childhood

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Martha Harrison Williams, though only a tiny tot when her grandfather Benjamin Harrison was President, still has some vivid personal recollections of happenings in the White House.

Mrs. Williams lived in the White House with her father, the President's son, Russell, and her mother, the daughter of Sen. Alvin Saunders of Nebraska. She occupied one of the front bedrooms "right over the portico" which had been turned into a nursery. Her small cousins, the much publicized "Baby" McKee, named Benjamin for his grandfather, and his sister, Mary, children of the President's daughter, Mrs. J. R. McKee and her husband, were the other occupants.

"I guess what I remember most and never am allowed to forget," Mrs. Williams, who now lives in a small house of her own here, told me, "is that I got the White House quarantined. My illness was diagnosed as scarlet fever, but today I'm sure it would be described as poliomyelitis."

Mrs. Williams also remembers a little cart pulled about the White House lawn by a goat in which she used to ride with Baby McKee. Once, Baby nearly succeeded in taking it outside the property, she said.

"I also remember sitting on the lap of the famous band leader, John Philip Sousa, when he came to lead the Marine Band which all these years has been playing for receptions at the White House."

she said. "And you know, the White House had its first Christmas tree when we lived there."

Mrs. Williams has managed to stay out of the spotlight, though she's attended dinners and teas at the White House. It was only recently that her name got into local papers when she was honored guest at a dinner featuring her grandfather's favorite dishes in the Presidential Room at Washington's Mayflower Hotel.

The dinner was prepared according to a menu that appears in "Statesmen's Dishes and How to Cook Them," published in 1890 by the National Tribune. The cover describes the book as "Practical autographic recipes by Mrs. Benjamin Harrison . . . and more than two hundred other women prominent in official and social life at the capital."

Idle Pay Claims Exceed 150,000

COLUMBUS (AP) — Continuing claims for unemployment compensation hit above the 150,000 mark for the week ended Jan. 11, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports.

The figure for the week was 150,785 compared with 137,422 estimated by the bureau for the week ended Jan. 4. Continuing claims are those of people unemployed one week or more.

New claims for the week ended Jan. 11 totaled 32,431 compared with 26,602 the previous week.

Quick! Who Was the Author Of 'The Perils of Pauline'?

By VERA WILLIAMS
Central Press Assn.
LONG BEACH, Calif. — Remember "The Perils of Pauline?"

You do, if you were young when movies were young.

Back in the early, roaring 1920s, "The Perils of Pauline" thriller serial starring Pearl White, ran for 36 weeks in most of the movie houses of the world.

Pearl White dangled over a cliff by a rope that parted, strand by strand, while an abyss yawned below; she was seized by foreign agents who sought to torture her into revealing government secrets; she was thrown into arenas with snarling lions; she was dropped into a volcano which periodically billowed smoke and spewed up boiling lava.

YOUNG FRY of the day, clutching hard-to-come-by nickels in their hot hands, rushed to the movies on Saturday afternoon, to crowd into the front seats and watch the horrors that happened or nearly happened to Pauline.

In each episode Pearl White (Pauline) was rescued from the lions, the foreign agents, the volcano or whatever of the previous week, only to be hurled onto a danger even more horrifying than before.

But you didn't know the author of the Pauline series still is alive! He is Basil Dickey, now 76, longtime movie script writer who has moved from Hollywood and lives in retirement with his wife and a little black dog in a house in Long Beach, a stone's throw from the Pacific ocean.

HE STOPPED a career as a Chicago real estate man to write the Pauline series, which was filmed by International Films, Inc., at the old Pathe studio in New Jersey.

That was when Hollywood was a wide spot on a California road. He got $50 a week; Pearl White got $60.

Closed Circuit TV Talked for Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Closed circuit television might be a solution to Ohio's overcrowded classrooms, Frank Siedel, recently retired State School Board member, has suggested.

Siedel, of Rocky River, suggested Wednesday that some of the money the state pours into new classroom construction could be better spent on a state closed circuit TV network.

Closed circuit TV, Siedel said, would allow every student the chance to see top flight teachers and would make it possible to reach more students per instructor.

Senate OK Near On Missile Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prompt Senate approval was forecast today for a House-passed emergency Air Force construction bill as a House subcommittee followed through on a measure to provide actual funds.

A unanimous 347-0 House vote sent to the Senate a bill to authorize $549,670,000 of new Air Force funds. It includes projects for a start on the nation's third base for intercontinental ballistic missiles, dispersal of bomber bases, a missile warning system and other works.

Chairman Stennis (D-Miss) said he will call hearings early next week before a Senate armed services subcommittee in an effort to hurry the measure to the Senate floor.

The authorization bill sets up some of the projects for which money would be provided in a $1,260,000,000 missile money bill which House leaders said may come to a vote there next week.

The House Defense Appropriations subcommittee has completed hearings on the money bill and members predicted today substantial approval of the entire amount.

"THERE MAY be some minor changes here and there," one subcommittee member reported, "but no major alterations."

The Air Force construction bill is the first step in speeded-up defense plans developed to offset Russian progress in the missile-satellite fields.

Before passing it, the House adopted a hastily drafted amendment to give Secretary of Defense McElroy specific authority to set up the Advanced Research Projects Agency he wants. The money bill would provide $10 million for the agency.

Investigations of the defense situation continued on both sides of the Capitol.

The House Armed Services Committee, meeting behind closed doors, recalled McElroy and his top missile experts for further questioning in a broad study expected to continue for several more weeks.

The Senate Preparedness subcommittee, which started earlier in an investigation centered more directly on missiles, is moving to conclude its hearings next week.

A subcommittee witness, Dan A. Kimball, former secretary of the Navy and now a missile manufacturer, testified that production could be speeded up if "we should get rid of about three fourths of the people, maybe 90 per cent, in the Defense Department."

Meanwhile, the committee made public another batch of highly censored closed-door testimony.

In it, Adm. John T. Hayward, assistant chief of naval operations for research and development, contended the Navy could have built a nuclear-powered seaplane had it been permitted to do so.

Former Residents Still in Hospital After Accidents

Two former Washington C. H. men are showing improvement in Mercy Hospital in Springfield after they were injured in separate automobile accidents a month apart. Both men now live in Springfield.

Noah Kier, 58, was seriously injured in a collision on N. Limestone St. in Springfield on Dec. 14. James R. Secrest, 34, son of Mrs. Delbert Secrest, 216 W. Temple St., here, was critically injured Jan. 14 when the car he was driving crashed into a utility pole on First Ave., Springfield.

Ernest Kier, 304 S. North St., here, said his brother had suffered internal injuries, but that he continues to improve. There was no indication when he will be released from the hospital.

Secrest, who suffered internal injuries in the crash in which Orlyn Fout, a former resident of South Solon, was killed, and Donald Riley of Springfield also was seriously injured, has "improved quite a bit," his mother said today. X-rays taken Monday, she said, showed no skull fracture.

Cleveland Shot In Burglar Chase

CLEVELAND (AP)—John Egna, 24, was wounded when he grappled with a burglar outside a gas station Wednesday night.

He is in fair condition at City Hospital with a bullet wound in the right chest.

Egna had gone to the closed station with the owner, Victor L. Dandante, 34. A woman living near the station had telephoned Dandante saying she thought she saw a prowler there.

Dandante said the burglar ran out of the station and went over a fence into a yard. He said Egna "was fighting with him. I heard a shot and John fell."

2 Men Held In Bank Holdup

2 Other Thugs Sought In $50,000 Robbery

FALMOUTH, Ky. (AP)—Authorities have nabbed two men wanted for the holdup of a Trenton, Ky., bank, but two other bandits were still at large today in the $50,000 holdup of the First National Bank here.

Two gunmen masked in orange stockings slipped into the bank here Wednesday, slugged a woman teller and escaped.

But Tennessee officers arrested the men in connection with the $3,687 Planters Bank of Trenton holdup later Wednesday.

They were identified as Lonnie Lott, 51, Nashville, Tenn., and Clifton Rawlins, 30, Pembroke, Ky., both Negroes. Ray L. Faist, agent in charge of the Louisville FBI office, said the two appeared at a hearing before a U.S. commissioner at Clarksville, Tenn., Wednesday night and were held for the next federal grand jury on $25,000 bond each on federal bank robbery charges.

They will be returned to Bowling Green, Ky., today, he said. Rawlins and Lott were arrested at Springfield, Tenn., less than an hour after the Trenton holdup.

In the robbery here, the bandits came through an unlocked rear door, grabbed Miss Pearl Ruber, a teller, when she entered and ordered her to open the vault. She did this, the bandits scooped up the money and knocked her unconscious with a pistol. Another employee reporting for work discovered Miss Ruber 15 minutes later.

The exact amount of loot taken was not known, pending an audit.

Three bank employees were in the Trenton bank when a tall Negro entered, demanded money with a penciled note and ordered them into the vault.

The FBI said Sheriff Richard W. Benson at Springfield reported $2,073.65 was recovered from the Trenton holdup.

Illinois GOP To Pay Ike's Travel Expense

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House says Illinois Republicans will pick up the check for President Eisenhower's trip to Chicago next Monday.

Eisenhower will travel aboard his government-provided plane, Columbine III, but White House press secretary James C. Hagerly reported the cost of the flight will be met by the committee in charge of the Republican finance dinner which the President will address Monday night.

Jeff Seniors Participate in Test Program

By NANCY ALLEN JEFFERSONVILLE—Last week was "test week" for the Seniors. Wednesday and Thursday were spent taking Aptitude Tests, which were administered by Dr. Gordon Yapple of Wilmington College and Mr. Phillips.

These tests are devised to help the student find the field of work for which he is best suited, and we were very glad to have had the opportunity to take them. Friday a group of Seniors from Jeffersonville, along with Seniors from Bloomington, Good Hope, and Madison Mills, took Senior Scholarship Tests.

The Jeffersonville Seniors taking the test were Nancy Allen, Sara Sue Davidson, Linda McClaskie, Bradley McKillip, David Morrow, Patricia Fodor, Roger Howard and Larry Lane.

THE SENIOR American Government classes have been studying income tax and have been learning how to make our returns. The teacher is Mr. Donald Morrow.

GROUP PICTURES of the classes and school organizations were taken for the yearbook by a representative from Powell Studios, of Dayton, on Jan. 7.

THE HIGH SCHOOL Chorus is to sing at the PTC Meeting Thursday and will offer the following selections: "The Bells of St. Mary's", "Whistle a Happy Tune", "Country Style", "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers", and "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor".

The band is working on formations for the basketball game at Bloomington on Jan. 24. They plan to play, among the other numbers, both the Jeffersonville and Bloomington school songs. During the Jeffersonville school song the band will stand in the formation of a "J," and likewise, during the Bloomington school song the band will stand in the formation of a "B."

THE HOMECOMING game is slated for Jan. 31, at which time Jeffersonville will play Good Hope on the home court, but nothing definite in the way of half-time activities has been planned as yet.

THE SENIORS were measured for the caps and gowns this week.

THE SOCK HOP after the game Friday night, Jan. 10, was sponsored by the Student Senate.

Big Vanguard Engine Tests 'Out Good'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Martin Co. and the Navy ground tested the main engine of the Vanguard rocket in the rain Wednesday night.

Pleased workers on the big Martin-built satellite launching vehicle reported that the whole enterprise "looked good."

This was the unofficial accounting of the rocket test. Officially, the Defense Department in a statement issued an hour and a half after the firing said only, "There was a routine static test of a missile."

The average time between a final missile static test here and a launching attempt is 10 days. Although the main purpose of the launching will be flight test the full rocket assembly for the first time, the Vanguard as a bonus will carry a 6.4-inch satellite in its nose.

Smoked Ham And Steak Are Food Features

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Steak and smoked ham get the feature treatment in many supermarkets and neighborhood stores this weekend.

Sirloin, porterhouse and round steak will be offered as special attractions priced to catch the housewife's eye. This situation may be repeated fairly often in the next few months, since some livestock men are saying that grain-fed steers, which yield the better grades of beef, will drop 10 to 15 per cent by April.

Any general beef decline, however, is not expected for a year or so.

Aside from the bargains offered in smoked ham, pork prices are generally higher this week, by as much as 10 cents a pound. Fryers, too, are up, although the range is only 2 to 4 cents a pound. This, of course, accounts for the scarcity of specials in chicken.

Others will offer more unorthodox specials such as spareribs, sausage, frankfurters, liverwurst, geese and even oxtails. These aren't normally big volume sellers, but they're something different.

The second Florida freeze, on top of the earlier cold spell there, has made it even tougher than before to find real bargains in fruits and vegetables. About the best of the lot in vegetable bins are onions, potatoes and celery. The so-called cooking greens—

Boy, 3 Weeks Old, Named Senate Page

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The Kentucky Senate was debating a proposal to limit the number of honorary pages which legislators may nominate.

Sen. Ed J. Kelly hesitantly inquired during the debate "Is it all right if I nominate someone to be an honorary page?"

He was told yes. "Then I would like to nominate my 3-week-old grandson," he said. The nomination was confirmed.

'Disney's Folly' Chalks Up Its 10 Millionth Visitor

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Now that the 10 millionth visitor has passed through the gates of Disneyland, Walt Disney can afford to be satisfied with the figures in the first 2½ years of operation.

"Disney's Folly" has turned into a rousing success. Critics had said too much money was being sunk into an amusement park far away from metropolitan centers. Time has proved that people will come from everywhere to the park — from 65 countries, in fact.

Nor has the place proved to be merely for the kiddies, as was predicted. Adults outnumber children 3½ to 1. The average amount spent by visitors is $2.61, including parking, admission, rides and souvenirs.

The publicity value of Disneyland cannot be denied. Of course, virtually all the film stars with children have been there. But it is also a mecca for visiting VIP's. The King of Morocco was so intrigued on his official visit there that he returned incognito for another whirl.

Among other notable visitors: former President Truman, President Sukarno of Indonesia, the Prime Minister of Pakistan, Vice President Nixon, Chief Justice Warren.

The girls may be missing from the motion picture herald's poll of the 10 top box office stars, but Kim Novak, Deborah Kerr and Debbie Reynolds are Nos. 11-13. Marilyn Monroe had better get back to work. In the top 10 last year, she didn't make the first 25 this time.

Jean Seberg, the Iowa Cinderella, makes a much better impression in "Bonjour Tristesse" than she did in her first flop, "St. Joan." The picture's frank treatment of French morals may shock some Americans — Frenchmen, too perhaps. Otto Preminger made smart use of color in the movie — filming in black-and-white for present-day scenes and full color for flashbacks.

Air Force To Recruit Quality Control Aides

DAYTON (AP)—The Air Force will recruit 31 professional engineers as quality control personnel at ballistic missile plants. The Air Materiel Command at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base said starting salaries for the new positions will be $10,065.

Col. J. G. Schneider, AMC chief of quality control, said this is the first time the Air Force has specified that professional engineers must be used in quality control.

Handicapped Get Break

Demonstrating an American-made artificial arm, Joe Sonnenman, a German carpenter, picks up cigarettes offered by David Montenegro of New York, labor officer at West Berlin U. S. mission.

By ESTHER V. TUFTY

WASHINGTON—Labor leader Walter J. Mason, who long has been interested in getting more jobs for the physically handicapped, is back from West Berlin with some new ideas on getting jobs for more American disabled.

Unlike in the United States, German law requires registration if the physical injury can be called "50 per cent."

Of the 130,000 registered Mason found 58,000 employed. The remainder were self supporting or so handicapped they were unable to work. Only 5,600 were out of a job.

Every Berlin employer having 10 or more employees is required to hire 10 per cent handicapped or physically injured workers. Furthermore, the law provides that the wives of the handicapped should be especially favored for employment.

OF COURSE, this is almost impossible in some industries. For example, a roofer cannot employ certain handicapped workers to climb atop a house.

Such situations are investigated by a technical advisor of the government, which has the authority to modify the number required by law.

The employer who cannot hire the handicapped because of the nature of his industry must fulfill his obligation by purchasing handicapped goods or, failing that, he is required to pay 50 West German marks monthly for each worker short of his quota.

This money is placed in a special fund for training and rehabilitation of the handicapped.

Do the employers object? "No, their attitude is very co-operative," Mason discovered.

THE HANDICAPPED worker also is entitled to an additional six days for recreation each year. For example, where an ordinary worker is entitled to 12 days' recreation or vacation, the handicapped worker is entitled to 18.

Blind persons are employed in more than 200 professions at normal wages.

Absenteeism? "It's lower for the physically handicapped," said Mason, who is reporting his find-

UCLA Testing Reveals Top Caliber Frosh

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Faculty sleuths at the University of California at Los Angeles are using advanced techniques to uncover freshmen with exceptional academic ability.

The UCLA detectives said that out of 840 frosh tested since last September, 94 placed among the upper half of 1 per cent in intelligence nationally.

"We found two students who could have skipped college altogether and gone into graduate work," one official said.

UCLA Dean of Students Milton E. Hahn, said there are many gifted students who might go through their four years "never realizing their potential."

The new program, still in its pilot stage, will be a continuous research project to get the most out of students.

All freshmen take more than a dozen tests lasting from 14 to 16 hours. Almost every area of intelligence and aptitude is measured and compared with the national college average.

The whole program says Hahn, is to broaden, enrich and speed up educational opportunities. He said the 94 freshmen have an ability to take courses one to three years above their grade levels, and every effort will be made to give them as much additional work as they can handle.

FUGITIVES FROM THE FBI

MAXWELL M. WALLACH

(In co-operation with J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, this newspaper is running a series of descriptive articles on criminals wanted by the FBI.)

MAXWELL M. WALLACH is being sought by the FBI for the interstate transportation of stolen property and as a bail jumper.

A complaint was filed on July 20, 1956, before a U. S. Commissioner at Los Angeles, Calif., charging Wallach with violation of the Interstate Transportation of Stolen Property Statute. He was arrested on this charge in New York City on the following day, and was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury at Los Angeles on Aug. 8, 1956, for the alleged violation of the above Statute.

Wallach failed to appear in Federal Court at Los Angeles on Aug. 27, 1956, for arraignment and plea, and a bench warrant for his arrest was issued on that date by the U. S. District Court in Los Angeles.

A complaint was filed on Nov. 13, 1956, before a U. S. Commissioner at Los Angeles, charging Wallach with violation of the Bail Jumper Statute.

The fugitive's occupations include lawyer, hotel clerk and public relations worker. He reportedly is suave, well-mannered, a smooth talker and a neat dresser.

DESCRIPTION: Age, 64; Born, Poland (not supported by birth records); Height, 5 feet 7 inches; Weight, 165; Build, medium; Hair, gray-tinted sandy; Eyes, gray-green; Complexion, medium. Nationality, Polish.

INFORMATION concerning fugitive should be telephoned to the nearest FBI office.

Madison Mills Homecoming Royalty Named

By MARY K. RECOB
MADISON MILLS—The Madison Mills High School Homecoming King and Queen and attendants have been elected by the student body.

They are as follows: King and Queen—Gene Caudill and Virginia Thompson; attendants and escorts: Seniors—Jim Hollas and Mary K. Recob, Juniors—Wayne Hidy and Norma Redding; Sophomores—Earl Williams; Freshmen—Lynn Ford and Louise McClain.

The homecoming will be an event of Feb. 1 at the Bloomingburg Gyn. A homecoming dance will follow the basketball game with Atlanta. The band already has been selected. The Melodiers. The four high school classes will sponsor the dance.

There will be cakewalks and refreshments available during the evening. The dance will start at 10 and end at midnight. The dance is open to the public.

THE SENIOR CLASS has been working on the Senior play. The name of the play is "In Came Mary Ann".

The cast consists of Mary Ann Brandon-Eloise McGowan; Martha Brandon—Nancy Justice; Rosalee Clark—Carolyn Ford; Joan Marshall—Virginia Thompson; Mrs. Jones Wright—Mary K. Recob; Robert Whitney—Don Conley; Randy Gardner—Gene Daily, Jim Belton—Jim Hollas; Archie Tecktor—Gene Caudill. The play will be presented on Jan. 19 at the school auditorium. The director is Robert F. Angus and the assistant director is Kay Cohn.

THE JUNIOR CLASS has already selected their class play and parts. They will give it in the near future.

THE SENIOR CLASS has been demonstrating salesmanship and have had a lot of fun and an exciting time.

ON FRIDAY five of the seniors went to Jeffersonville to take the Senior Scholarship Test. They were Don Conley, Kay Cohn, Carolyn Ford, Eloise McGowan and Mary K. Recob.

THE SENIORS have already ordered the caps and gowns and their invitations.

THE CHEMISTRY CLASS has been raising a lot of smell all over the building. Bromine gas, especially.

THE MADISON MILLS cheerleaders, Eloise McGowan, Carolyn Ford, Annalee Fry, Carol Grim, Jane Belt and Charlotte Hollar, are trying to lead the basketball squad toward another victory over Jeff as they had over Bloomingburg.

THE HOME ECONOMICS Class is refinishing furniture for a class project.

Income Tax Agent To Be Here 4 Days

A representative of the Internal Revenue Department will be at the Chamber of Commerce office, 125½ N. Fayette St., on four different days to help people make out their income tax returns.

The first time will be on Jan. 31 from 8:15 a. m. until 1 p. m. and from 2 to 5 p. m. He will be back on Feb. 14, again on Feb. 17 and the last time April 15. The hours in the office will be the same all four days.

Cattle Feeders Meeting Monday

Cattle feeders of Fayette County will hold their annual meeting at 6:30 p. m. next Monday at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. Already, nearly 75 reservations have been made.

Fayette County has one of the most active commercial cattle feeders associations in the state. At the present time, it is represented on the state association by Ray Creachbaum from the southern edge of the county and the president is Robert Haigler of the Sedalia Rd.

The annual meeting of the state association will be held Jan. 29 and 30 in the Southern Hotel in Columbus. Highlights of the program are:

Report on Jan. 29, Fayette County meeting by Barton Montgomery, Secretary-treasurer;

"What's Ahead in State Association" by Ray Whetstone, Lima;

"Feeding High Moisture Corn" by Ray Whetstone, Lima;

Remarks by Jim Warner, beef cattle specialist, Ohio State University.

Naming of a cattle feeders tour committee and report of nominating committee.

Keith Trial Delayed Until Friday

NEW YORK (AP)—The first degree murder trial of Leroy Keith, a 49-year-old Negro accused of shooting taxi driver David Suro Dec. 19, 1956, has been adjourned until Friday. The action is to allow a juror to attend a funeral today.

Keith, also wanted by Ohio authorities, allegedly shot Suro when the cabbie rammed his vehicle into a police car to obtain help after Keith drew a gun on him.

George Bender Bowing Out As Candidate for Governor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Ohio senator George H. Bender announced Wednesday that he will not enter the Ohio gubernatorial race this year.

The Ohio Republican told a press conference here he plans to stay on his present job as special assistant to Secretary of the Interior Seator "indefinitely."

Bender, in a letter to Ohio Republican chairman Ray Bliss, said:

"In answer to your appeal, and with an impelling interest in party harmony, I want to assure you that I do not intend to become a candidate for the governor of Ohio."

Bliss had asked Bender not to run. Bliss' action came after Bender asked Secretary of State Ted W. Brown for nominating petitions, the first step in placing a name on the primary ballot.

THE FORMER senator made it clear to Bliss that he still does not feel all is right with the administration of Gov. C. William

O'Neill who earlier Wednesday announced his candidacy for reelection. Bender said that in the last several months, "hundreds of Ohio citizens have come to me, with varying degrees of distress and disappointment over the affairs of our state."

"Perhaps it is not too inappropriate that these concerned citizens look to me as a symbol of defiance to such a desecration of public trust."

Bender said his "concept of public service and party loyalty goes beyond mere campaign convenience."

In explaining what he meant by "campaign convenience" Bender said: "I don't believe a party platform should be a fishhook to catch suckers with."

Bender told the newsmen: "We've had one Lausche in Ohio and the Republicans in Ohio are responsible for the United States Senate now being controlled by Democrats."

He apparently referred in part

ACTIVITY CLUB

The Sunnyside Activity Club, made up of sixth grade pupils of the Sunnyside School, was organized Tuesday after school.

Jean Reynolds was elected president; Donnie Wilson, vice president; Ronnie Mayer, treasurer; Patty Seymour, secretary, and Susar Reno and Don Cox, news reporters.

The dues will be 5 cents a week. Activity for the first week is "to see that the patrol boys and girls do a better job."

to the 1956 election to the Senate of the long-time Ohio governor, Democrat Frank J. Lausche. Bender was the GOP candidate and was defeated by a wide margin.

When asked "what kind of a job do you think O'Neill has done?" Bender shot back, "I can't hear you," though he had previously heard all questions asked.

Civilian Trucks To Transfer Space Secrets

BALTIMORE (AP)—Most of the nation's top military secrets dealing with space flight, ballistics missiles, nuclear bombers and manned satellite stations are being entrusted to a civilian transfer company, starting today.

Elaborate security arrangements have been made to protect the highly classified documents of the Air Research and Development Command during its move to Andrews Air Force Base near Washington.

More than 25,000 items from waste baskets to safes crammed with hush-hush information will be moved from three Baltimore buildings now occupied by the ARDC.

Fuchs Transfer, Inc., Baltimore moving firm, will make the mammoth haul in 130 trailer trucks. The move will continue around the clock for the next 15 days. Fuchs was low bidder at $23,000 on a government contract for the job.

The move involves 1,650 per-

Can She Say She Has Nil To Wear?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Pearl Balos, in her divorce suit, asked $600 a month for clothing.

Her husband, wealthy realtor Benjamin Balos, 63, objected to her request for $2,465 monthly alimony, including the clothing allowance.

He told the court he took this inventory of his wife's wardrobe:

Eight fur pieces, 153 dresses, 178 pairs of shoes, 68 skirts, 72 pairs of stockings, 85 purses, 32 girdles, 36 house robes.

The court ruled that Mrs. Balos, 53, will have to get along on $1,400 temporary alimony.

Evangelist Cancels Visit To Venezuela

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Acting on advice from his sponsors in Venezuela, evangelist Billy Graham said he has dropped that country from his Latin America preaching tour.

He departs Monday for speaking engagements in Jamaica, Puerto Rico, Barbados, Trinidad, Panama, Costa Rica, Guatemala and Mexico, in that order.

The Venezuelan political climate has been uncertain since New Year's Day when President Marcos Perez Jimenez thwarted an attempted military revolt.

Bahama Tourist Trade Badly Hurt by Strike

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Transportation interests hoped today to arrange a meeting with the Bahamas taxicab Union to solve their differences and settle a general walkout that has paralyzed this tourist city.

Sixteen hotels have closed, almost emptying the city of winter visitors. Almost all service for air and cruise ships had halted.

North Carolina On Skids in Current Play

West Virginia '5'
Continues To Chalk
Up Cage Victories

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
What a difference a year makes. North Carolina, the NCAA title holder, has hit the skids while West Virginia's Mountaineers have gained a poised, championship look.

The Mountaineers, top-ranked in this week's Associated Press poll, played it cool again Wednesday night, calmly coming from behind for a 71-64 decision over Pitt and a 13-0 record.

But sixth-ranked North Carolina, losing two in a row for the first time since the end of the 1955 season, was knocked off 58-37 in overtime by North Carolina State for the Tar Heels' third defeat in 14 starts.

Just 12 months ago, North Carolina was in the midst of its unbeaten run on the national title while West Virginia was recovering from a three-game slump.

Bradley followed North Carolina onto the upset heap, losing 71-70 to St. Louis on a free throw by Bob Ferry after the final gun. It was the second loss in 11 games for the 10th-ranked Braves.

Elgin Baylor scored 53 points—a school record and enough to make him a solid third in national major college scoring—as Seattle whipped Montana State College 108-83.

Temple (No. 12) gained an 11-2 record with a comeback, 72-61 victory over Penn. and Dartmouth (No. 19) escaped upset and retained the Ivy League lead with a 67-64 decision over Harvard.

The Mountaineers bagged theirs in the last 3 minutes as Lloyd Sharrar, the 6-10 guy who scored the clincher in last week's squeaker past Villanova, converted a rebound for a five-point spread.

North Carolina, which had won 24 in a row at home, blew 17 of 42 foul shots while dropping out of a first place tie with Maryland for the Atlantic Coast Conference lead. Maryland defeated North Carolina Saturday. Tar Heel Tommy Kearns was high scorer with 17 points last night.

Tom Hawkins scored 28 for Notre Dame as the Irish, behind at the half for the first time this season, broke loose with 33 points in the last 13 minutes for a 69-61 decision over DePaul.

George Washington's zone defense defeated William & Mary 91-80 as Bowling Green defeated Toledo 67-65 in the Mid-American. Holy Cross defeated Syracuse 80-71.

Robertson Sets
Hot Scoring Pace

NEW YORK (AP)—Oscar Robertson, the University of Cincinnati's "bread and butter" man is the one to catch now in the individual basketball scoring race, National Collegiate Athletic Bureau statistics show.

Robertson, who has paced fifth ranked Cincinnati to an 11-2 mark so far, took over the lead from Kansas' Wilt Chamberlain with a 43 points per game average over the last three games.

Statistics show Robertson with a 32.7 points per game average against 32.2 for Chamberlain. The Cincinnati sophomore has scored 425 points in 13 games, while Wilt has notched 354 in 11 games.

Hoosier Hotshots
Set Big Ten Pace

CHICAGO (AP)—Indiana is the hottest shooting team in the Big Ten and Michigan is tops in retrieving rebounds, official conference basketball statistics show.

The two teams share the Big Ten lead with 3-1 records. Third place Northwestern (2-1) has the best scoring average, 80 points per game.

Indiana is hitting at a 41.8 clip from the floor and a 75.8 from the foul line. Northwestern's 41.1 field goal percentage is next best and Michigan's 73.6 on free throws is second in that phase.

Michigan has taken 209 rebounds with Indiana next at 191.

Harness Horsemen's Banquet Set Feb. 3 at Country Club

The annual banquet of the harness horsemen will be held Monday Feb. 3 at the Washington Country Club.

A social hour, scheduled to begin at 6:30 p. m., will precede the banquet.

The annual banquets of the past will be followed closely as far as the program is concerned. Usually most of the evening is taken up with "just visiting" among the many guests that gather.

John Sagar will serve as toastmaster and introduce some of the out-of-town guests. The balance of the program will feature the showing of the 1957 Hambletonian and the Little Brown Jug official United States Trotting Assn. films.

In announcing the banquet, Harold (Babe) McDux said that tickets can be obtained from any local horseman.

Braves To Prep Rookie Hurlers

NEW YORK (AP)—The world champion Milwaukee Braves, already boasting what may be the best pitching staff in the National League, will have in their midst two prize pitching prospects next spring.

The pair—right-handers Carlton Willey and Joey Jay—recalled from the champion Wichita club of the American Assn., are considered close to being ready. Willey, voted the association's most valuable player, made tremendous strides at Wichita last year. Settling for a 5-10 record and a 4.43 ERA only the season before, Willey turned in a remarkable 21-6 record in 1957, completing 17 starts and striking out 174 batters in 247 innings. He is a 26-year-old native of Chesterfield, Mo.

Jay, 23, has been kicking around for five years now. He was an 18-year-old bonus baby in 1953 and after serving the mandatory two-year term with the Braves, was sent to an option. Jay always had the tools but an inclination not to take things too seriously delayed his return. Observers who watched him post a 17-10 record at Wichita last year believe he has matured now.

Two other newcomers rate consideration as relief pitchers—Phil Paine and Humberto Robinson. Paine, who had been up before, compiled a 1.59 earned run average for Wichita last year. Robinson had an 18-7 record at Toronto.

An outstanding pitching prospect is Don Nottebart, who won 18 and lost 10 at Atlanta. Ray Riddlemeyer is said to be better than his 2-3 record at Wichita would indicate. Back for a third trial is Vic Rehm of Carlyle, Ill., who, hampered by arm trouble, won only eight games while dropping seven at Wichita.

Perhaps the most important newcomer of all is not on the roster. He is outfielder Al Spangler, a fleet Duke University alumnus who created a sensation at spring training 1956 and then went into the Army. Spangler will be discharged in time to go to camp with the club.

All-Star Pin Tourney Field Pared Sharply

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The gigantic 17th annual All-Star bowling tournament field of 288 has been pared down to 32 when the qualifying rounds were concluded Wednesday night.

Those who survived the five day preliminaries began today the grueling round robin series of matches which will end with a nationally televised action of the position round Sunday night.

The top man through the early stages of this "World Series of bowling" was Tom Hennessey of St. Louis. He totaled 7585 for 26 games to win the qualifying trophy.

Hennessey and the next highest 31 scorers from the men's semifinals will merge with seeded stars Don Carter of St. Louis and Bill Lillard of Chicago for the finals. Defending champion Carter whipped immediate past champion Lillard in a series of exhibition matches during the preliminaries.

Carter and Hennessey, who are teammates, finished 1-2 in the World's Invitational bowling championships last month.

Sylvia Wene, the tiny brunette from Philadelphia who won this event three years ago, earned the women's qualifying trophy with 4588 pins in 24 games.

Stanford To Name New Football Pilot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—We expect to distribute announcement of Stanford football coach, Thursday, Jan. 16, about 2 p. m. or as soon thereafter as possible.

Pete Allen, news service director at Stanford, sent the telegram to newsmen telling of today's session of the school's trustees.

He left out the name of the coach.

Most everyone spelled it easily—J-a-c-k C-u-r-t-i-s.

Should Stanford come out with any other name, the amazement will be electrifying.

Crucial Games Coming Up Friday for Area Cage Teams

The odds are against the Washington C. H. High School cagers Friday—no matter how well they do.

The Lions meet Hillsboro here in one of two SCO League games on a busy basketball docket. A win would extend the Lion's league string to 4-1.

But Wilmington, presently tied for the league lead with the Lions, plays host to lowly Greenfield the same night. A Wilmington win is likely, and so the Lions probably can't hope for much more than another tie.

Meanwhile, the odds will be even over at New Holland, where powerful Darby meets the classy Bulldog cagers in a game that may decide the Pickaway County league race.

Darby leads the league now. But New Holland, the closest contender, has lost just one league game and can still pull the campaign out of the fire.

IN THE FAYETTE County race, Friday night could turn the whole standings topsy-turvy. Bloomingburg, with a 2-1 record, plays at

Rademacher Aiming at Champ Again

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Pete Rademacher is going to fight Floyd Patterson for the world's heavyweight championship again.

That is, unless he gets bumped off by some unknown fighter during his European boxing tour, late in February and early March.

Rademacher, called the dreamer by those who couldn't believe he'd ever get in the same ring with the champion last summer, is confident he'll come back to America victorious and in the best condition of his 28 years.

"These fights, slated for my tour, are real fights," he said. "I want to prove to myself that I can go 10 rounds," said the 1957 Olympic heavyweight champion. "I believe that I can, and I'm confident of beating any man in the world, including Floyd Patterson."

Modest, almost to a fault, Rademacher didn't mean to be critical of the men who took charge of his training for the title fight with Patterson last Aug. 22 at Seattle. "Ash. They trained me according to the way they do professionals," said big Pete, "but I knew better than anyone what I needed to do before that fight. They wouldn't let me."

Cincy City Council To Assist Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati's baseball fans breathed a bit easier today—it looked like a cinch their Redlegs would remain here for at least five years.

City Council voted 7-2 to approve the intent of city manager C. A. Harrell's recommendation for adoption of a citizen's committee plan to provide additional parking space at Crosley Field at a cost of $2 million.

Powell Crosley Jr., president of the Redlegs, said he would agree to keep the National League team here for five years if the city would provide the 2,600 additional parking spaces.

Baldwin-Wallace Seeks New Coach

CLEVELAND (AP)—Baldwin-Wallace College is searching for a new head football coach.

John (Sparky) Adams, 37, submitted his resignation in a letter to president Alfred B. Bonds Jr. Wednesday, but said that he would remain as assistant basketball coach. He said he wanted to continue his graduate study.

Adams, a graduate of B-W in 1943, joined the coaching staff in 1951 and became head football coach when Lou Juillerat resigned in 1954 to become athletic director at Troy High School.

Good Hope (1-2) and Jeffersonville (2-1) plays at Madison Mills (1-2).

The race could tighten up, or it could loosen. Theoretically, it could even end in a four-way 2-2 tie.

Good Hope plays at Frankfort in the only class A game involving a county team Saturday.

Three SCO teams play the same night, but none in league games: Washington C. H. goes to Xenia, Greenfield to Portsmouth and Circleville to Chillicothe.

Two county league teams will get back into action the following Tuesday—Jeffersonville, playing host to Port William and Madison Mills, meeting Baskin at Wayne.

All the SCO teams will be idle that night, except Wilmington, which plays host to Franklin Heights.

B-G Win over Toledo Quint Tops Ohio College Cage Fare

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Eight Ohio college basketball teams were in action in the state Wednesday but only one, Muskingum, was on foreign soil.

The Muskies were at Waynesburg, Pa., where they posted their eighth win in 10 games, an 87-54 victory.

Bowling Green and Toledo highlighted the intra-state action and that game provided plenty of thrills.

The Bee Gees moved into a second place tie in the Mid-American Conference but they had their hands full in defeating the Rockets, 67-65.

Bowling Green saw a 66-59 lead cut to 67-65 in the last five minutes of play. The game almost went into an overtime when Toledo's Ned Niklovic picked off a missed Falcon free throw, raced the length of the court but missed a jump shot just before the game ended.

The Falcons are 3-2 in the Mid-Am and 9-1 for the season. Toledo is 1-3 and 4-3.

In the Ohio Conference, Ohio Wesleyan defeated Marietta 88-57 for its third win, all of them over conference teams. The Bishops have lost four in the conference and seven overall.

It was the second Ohio Conference defeat in as many nights for the Pioneers. They are 1-2 in the conference and 4-6 for the season. At Ada, Bluffton broke up a see-saw battle in the last 10 minutes to down Ohio Northern 79-73 in a Mid-Ohio League tilt.

Kent State brought its record up to the .500 (5-5) mark when the Flashes defeated Akron 62-55 in a non-conference game at Kent. Akron is now 8-4.

The scoring honors for the night went to Toledo's Joe Keifer, who poured in 27 points for the Rockets against Bowling Green.

His point production was one more than Jim Ricketts' 26 counters for Ohio Northern. Ron Kalb had 25 points for Bluffton to place third in the state's individual point production.

Texas A&M Caught In Coach Hassle

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Officials of Texas A&M, embroiled in dissension over selection of a football coach, try today to sift some order into their seemingly endless hunt.

With criticism coming from all sides, Dr. Chris Groneman, chairman of the Faculty Athletic Council, said the group would try to appraise the situation.

Even Gov. Price Daniel has gotten into the act, calling for a complete report on the much-criticized search for a successor to Paul Bryant, who quit Jan. 1 to become head coach at Alabama.

NOTHING ELSE NEAR THE PRICE HAS WHAT'S IN THIS PACKAGE!

It's one of Chevrolet's dollar-stretching Delrays!

The handsome Delrays are the lowest priced of all the low-priced Chevrolets. And they're full-size Chevrolets—wider, lower and nine lively inches longer. In size, in style, in fine details and construction, no other car priced so low gives you so much!

When you're thinking about buying a car because of its extra-low price, there are two things it pays to watch for. First, be sure you get full measure when it comes to size. Don't settle for a cut-down bargain model. Second, be sure you get all the equipment and conveniences that you'd normally expect to be standard in a car. Chevrolet's Delray models are the lowest priced in the line. But they're full-size Chevrolets—and they're equipped to do you proud. Nothing else near the price has what's in this package. See and drive this big beauty soon at your Chevrolet dealer's!

News in Brief

U. S. Mothers Ending Visits In Red China

HONG KONG (AP) — Mrs. Ruth Redmond held her last prison meeting with her son Hugh in Communist Shanghai today. She said there were no tears at the end of the 2½-hour chat.

The Yonkers, N. Y., school dietitian journeyed with two other American mothers halfway around the world for poignant reunions with their sons imprisoned in Red jails for espionage.

"Yes," she said when asked if she had appealed for mercy to Premier Chou En-lai. "I'm hoping. But there's been no answer yet and no indication of whether there will be."

Mrs. Redmond leaves Saturday by plane for Canton to rejoin Mrs. Jessie Fecteau of Lynn, Mass., and Mrs. Mary Downey, New Britain, Conn., and Mrs. Downey's son, William, 25. They have been visiting John Thomas Downey and Richard Fecteau, Army civilian employees imprisoned since 1952.

The four will leave China at the Hong Kong border Sunday.

Mrs. Fecteau and Mrs. Downey will see their sons for the last time Friday.

BERLIN (AP) — U.S. military trains were running on schedule between Berlin and West Germany today and Allied officials minimized the dispute with Russian guards that led to delays Wednesday.

Four trains taking supplies to U.S. forces in Berlin were delayed 10 hours at Marienborn, the Soviet checkpoint on the West German border.

The difficulty began when a Soviet guard asked for a new kind of stamp on one train's documents, one informant said. The U.S. train commander refused.

The Russians apparently did not insist on the new procedure today.

The Allies are entitled to operate trains over a 100-mile stretch of East Germany to supply their military garrisons in Berlin.

LONDON (AP) — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld arrived by air from New York today to discuss world problems with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet people read today for the first time of President Eisenhower's reply to Premier Bulganin's peace proposals. The Soviet news agency Tass said the President dodged Soviet proposals for a relaxation of tension and a stable peace.

BATHURST, N.B. (AP) — Generous Americans responding to notes attached to Christmas trees sent thousands of dollars worth of gifts to distinctly underserving Canadians, a weekly newspaper reports.

The Northern Light says Americans were bilked in "a racket which is increasing each year."

Needy children began attaching notes to southbound Christmas trees several years ago. When their notes got widespread attention, "hundreds of greedy grown-ups" began writing notes, the paper said.

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan today joined President Eisenhower and French Premier Gaillard in specifying that any summit meeting with the Soviets can come only after the most careful preliminaries by lesser officials.

Informed sources said that was the key point in a note from Macmillan, sent to Moscow today in reply to Premier Bulganin's call for a summit conference.

SEOUL (AP) — The mercury hit a 12-year low in Seoul today and the Weather Bureau said the cold wave would continue over South Korea for several more days. The temperature in the capital was just below zero, the lowest since 2.2 degrees below zero was recorded in 1945.

CALGARY, Alta. (AP) — A rash of harmful teen-age rocket experiments has prompted Calgary druggists to bar sales of explosive substances to minors. The Retail STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Officials today announced the arrest of two businessmen in connection with smuggling operations that have sent at least two million dollars worth of strategic metals to Iron Curtain countries.

Officials said the illegal trade — mostly in copper and nickel — has been going on for two years.

Police said metals have been shipped illegally from the ports of Trelleborg, Göteborg, Malmö and Helsingborg to East Germany.

The businessmen were not identified.

MONTCEAU LES MINES, France (AP) — A coal dust explosion early today injured an estimated 40 miners working in a shaft here in east central France. No deaths were reported.

dividends, reflecting corporate caution and some squeeze on profits. But about 750 million dollars of the drop represented reduced wage and salary payments.

2. Industrial production sagged in December to the lowest level since July 1956, when a nationwide steel strike hobbled output.

The Federal Reserve index of physical output from mines and factories dipped three points in the month to 136 per cent of the 1947-49 average. Auto assemblies declined 10 per cent and steel mills further slowed their operations to a rate of 40 per cent below a year ago.

These reports followed by a day the December employment figures, which revealed that joblessness rose by 200,000 to 3,374,000. This was the highest unemployment for any December since the recession year 1949.

Although officials and economists here almost unanimously predict an upturn by summer, the Federal Reserve's relaxation of margin requirements, applying both to purchases and short sales, was the latest in a series of government moves to counter the recession.

$32,100 which will be paid from bond issue proceeds. The board, at Wednesday's meeting, authorized its president, Elmer N. Reed; and Clerk-Treasurer Fred Rost to exercise options for the purchase of the five-acre Belle-Aire site from G. D. Baker (who is giving the district two acres, selling one acre at the tax valuation of around $100, two additional acres at $1,000 per acre) and the 30-acre East side school site at Elm and Willard Sts. for the previously agreed price of $30,000.

The latter property is owned by the Ohio Water Service Co. Other expenses will include an estimated $20,000 for furnishing and equipping the new classrooms and $30,198 in architect's fees.

As soon as the money is received from sale of the bonds (probably next week), the board will pay off a $49,250 note at the First National Bank which was issued in anticipation of the bond sale in order to install new boilers at the high school and purchase equipment for emergency classrooms. This equipment will be moved to the new buildings.

These items were included in the original bond issue proposal, and approximately $1,500 is still available from the note sale.

NEW CONSTRUCTION will include the one-story, 15-classroom Eastside Building; the one-story, eight-classroom Belle-Aire Building and two-room additions at both Rose Avenue and Cherry Hill buildings.

Although specifications called for "speed tile" (an oversize brick) construction for the Eastside and Belle-Aire buildings, the board decided on regular face brick at an additional cost of $6,200 when it was explained that regular brick is considered twice as long-lasting and presents a more conventional appearance.

An attempt will be made to match the present exterior color at Cherry Hill and Rose Avenue schools.

The successful contractors indicated that it is almost certain the Belle-Aire building and the two additions will be ready for the 1958 fall opening, and indicated that completion of the Eastside building is possible by that time under normal weather conditions and availability of materials.

The present Eastside land and building at Columbus Ave. and Willard Sts., will be sold when the new structure is completed.

A start on the new construction is likely in two weeks.

FRANK CUPP, representing the architects, McLaughlin and Keil, Lima, assisted the board in their consideration of the base bids and alternates. Bids were first read in the high school auditorium where nearly 50 builders and interested citizens gathered. The board then returned to its meeting room for nearly three hours of study before awarding the contracts.

Other bidders on the general and electrical contracts and their base bids were:

Virgil Bowers, Greenfield, $389,892; William A. Newman, Portsmouth, $363,000; Weithman Brothers, Galion, $396,000; C. A. Yeager, Portsmouth, $352,525.

Other base bids on plumbing and hot water heating were: Chillicothe Plumbing, $139,300; Tibbetts, Dayton, $121,950. The Columbus Heating and Ventilating Co. bid was the only one on the warm air heating for Rose Avenue and Belle-Aire additions.

BOARD MEMBERS, other school officials and the architect's representative expressed satisfaction and some surprise over the construction bids which were well below earlier estimates and probably lower than they would have been three months ago.

THE BONDS were sold Jan. 2 at an unexpectedly favorable rate of 3 3/4 per cent interest plus a premium of $11,119. The premium and accrued interest on the bonds must by law, be applied to their retirement over a 23-year period.

The new construction will mean the end of 11 emergency classrooms in school basements and in churches which now house approximately 300 children.

Board action to sell bonds and award construction contracts came swiftly on the heels of a Nov. 27 announcement by the school district's attorneys that all legal question as to the validity of the bonds had been answered by court decisions.

W. A. Smith, superintendent of city schools, said after the letting: "We are very well satisfied with the bids and happy at the prospect of early completion of the buildings and additions. It will eliminate a problem of overcrowding which has existed for several years."

One Felon Sought, Another Captured
CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati police went chasing for bank robbers Wednesday and wound up with a bad check artist.

The police were acting on reports that the men who had held up a bank at Falmouth, Ky., and obtained an estimated $50,000 were in a downtown hotel.

The net result was the arrest of four members of a magazine sales crew and the wife of one of them.

One of the men, listed as Norman Eugene Lee, 26, admitted he had cashed fraudulent checks in Ohio, Florida, Kentucky, Indiana, New York and Pennsylvania.

Harper Attends Conference on '61 Centennial

Robert S. Harper, of near Staunton, returned Thursday from Washington, D. C., where he had spent the last three days attending a meeting of the Civil War Centennial Commission, appointed by President Eisenhower to plan for a nationwide observance of the 100th anniversary of the War Between the States.

Harper attended the meetings of the commission as a representative of Gov. C. William O'Neill and the Ohio Historical Society. He said he was there in the role of an observer "to learn something of the overall plans for the centennial observance as the basis for Ohio's possible participation."

He explained that he will make a full report on the meetings of the commission to Gov. O'Neill and the Historical Society this month.

HARPER, who has written several historical novels and a book on "Lincoln and the Press," is the public relations representative of the Historical Society and a member of its research staff.

He began his career as a newspaperman as a reporter on the old Washington C. H. Herald, and is a former managing editor of the Ohio State Journal, the position he held when he retired about five years ago. He and Mrs. Harper moved from Columbus to their new farm home here two years ago.

The centennial observance is tentatively scheduled for 1961, just 100 years after the start of the Civil War.

Good Attendance At Revival Services
Bad weather has not trimmed the attendance at all, as an estimated 300 people a night have turned out to hear the Rev. J. Percy Trueblood, North Carolina revivalist, at the Gregg St. Church of Christ in Christian Union this week.

The Rev. Mr. Trueblood, who has committed much of the Bible to memory, is speaking at 7:30 p. m. each night this week, and at 10:30 a. m., 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

Despite treacherous road conditions, people have come from as far away as Columbus, Circleville, Lancaster and Springfield, the Rev. Charles Ware, pastor of the church, said.

An active evangelist for more than 30 years, the Rev. Mr. Trueblood is associated with the Wesleyan Methodist denomination. He has preached in almost all of the 48 states and several foreign countries.

He has toured extensively in the Middle East and Israel.

Ike Suggests Cutbacks in Crop Supports

cent above levels now provided by legal formulas. Such increases would be made only if there were potential markets for the larger output. They would be coupled with lower price supports.

3. LEGISLATION eliminating acreage allotments for corn. This would put corn on the same basis as other livestock feed grains.

4. Repeal the "escalator" clauses of present price support laws requiring that supports for wheat, cotton, corn, rice, and peanuts be increased when supplies decline. Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said these clauses would increase supports when present surpluses are disposed of, encourage excessive production and bring on new surpluses.

5. Legislation to fix the range of possible price supports for wheat, cotton, corn, rice, peanuts, tobacco and dairy products at 60 to 90 per cent of parity. The present range is 75 to 90. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

This proposal calls for repeal of a law requiring that tobacco be supported at 90 per cent of parity when marketing quotas are in effect, regardless of the supply.

6. Amend the price support law to base price supports for cotton on the average quality of the crop. Present law requires use of middling 3/4-inch quality, which is below the average. This change would put supports for cotton on the same basis with other crops and would tend to lower the supports by more than 2 cents a pound. Present supports are slightly above 28 cents.

7. Legislation increasing the membership of the Advisory Board of the Commodity Credit Corp. — price support banking agency — from five to seven and giving it authority to advise the secretary of agriculture on price support levels.

8. Extend the Agricultural Trade Development Act authorizing the Agriculture Department to sell farm surpluses abroad for foreign currencies and permitting the use of those currencies in financing trade development and other U.S. government expenses in the purchasing countries. The extension would permit the sale of an additional 1½ billion dollars worth of surpluses. Congress already has authorized disposal of four billion dollars worth.

9. Expand research to develop new industrial uses for farm products. The President called for increased funds for this in his budget message.

10. Extend the National Wool Act authorizing incentive payments to supplement grower returns.

11. Extend the special school milk program authorizing the department to contribute 75 million dollars a year to help pay for milk served in school.

12. Legislation to broaden sources of loans for rural power and telephone projects. At present, the government provides such funds. Suggested has been a plan under which the government would insure loans from private sources. This change would be expected to increase interest rates, because private loans are being made only at rates double or more the present government rate of 2 per cent. But to get such lending funds, the government itself must pay more than 2 per cent. Hence, it loses money on present loans.

13. Legislation requiring the states to contribute to federal disaster relief programs for farmers.

14. Narrow, probably through both legislation and appropriations the scope of the agricultural conservation program to pay farmers subsidies only for carrying out permanent soil and water conservation practices and measures. This would eliminate subsidies for annual practices, such as application of lime and fertilizer.

Eisenhower offered no figures as to what effect his program would have on government spending for farm aids. But Agriculture Department officials estimated that 300 to 500 million dollars might be cut from the present outlay of about 2 billion dollars a year for price supports.

They said that if markets could be expanded sufficiently the entire cost of the price support program could be eliminated.

Under the President's proposal, the price support for wheat, for example, could be reduced from the present rate $2 a bushel to about $1.43 a bushel. The support rate for rice could be reduced from the present $4.72 a hundred pounds to $3.50.

'Best Fair' Award Slated for Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The "best fair" award for 1957 will be presented today at the annual banquet and election of officers of the Ohio Fair Managers Assn.

Fourteen fairs are competing for "best fair" honors. The Myers Y. Cooper trophy will be presented to the winner.
